DOWNFALL OF THE SULTAN IS NEAR

Army of Young Turks Marching on the Yildiz Kiosk to Demand
Abdication of Ruler.

RUMOR THAT ABDUL HAMID HAS FLED.

Complete Preparation and Good Order Marks Advance of the Army of the Liberals

Turkish troops loyal to the young Turks, and determined to enforce the political aspirations of the reformers, are rapidly concentrating upon Constantinople and threatening to march into the city and force the sultan to abdicate, unless constitutional government is given full recognition. Yildiz Kiosk, the residence of the sultan, is their objective. No resistance is expected and steps are being taken by the young Turks to protect the lives and property of foreigners and Christians. The nearness of the expected victory of the young Turks is evidenced by the fact that they and not the authorities at Constantinople are giving assurances of protection and the maintenance of order.

The advance guard of the constitutionalists is at Kutchuk, ten miles from Constantinople, on the Sea of Marmora. It is possible to reach Yildiz Kiosk by sea from Kutchuk, thus avoiding the passage of the soldiers through the city proper. The remainder of the forces of the young Turks, estimated at some twenty thousand men, and rapidly increasing in numbers, is at Tchatalja and other nearby points, within forty miles west of Constantinople by rail. Tchatalja is the key to the girdle of fortifications around the capital.

These troops have come mostly from Salonika, the headquarters of the third army corps, which always has supported the young Turks in their demands for constitutional reform. They are acting with dignity and determination, and their concentration is proceeding in an orderly manner and with every indication of preparedness. They declare they have no idea of waging a fratricidal war, but they are determined that the constitution be observed. They are prepared to go to extremes should it become necessary. One of their commanding officers said to a committee of pacification from Constantinople that came out to parley:

"Have you brought the head of the old man? We cannot negotiate so long as you come without that head."

The indications are for a successful and bloodless victory for the young Turks, but the situation still is exceedingly serious and contains the possibility of rioting and massacres, particularly should the advance of the young Turks be delayed. Public opinion, favorable to the young Turks, is growing rapidly in the capital, and while it looked last week as though the reactionaries were gaining the upperhand, the young Turks have gathered their forces and have revealed many evidences of support from all races and from almost every section of the empire. They declare that the uprising on the part of the Constantinople garrison of six days ago, that resulted in the resignation of the cabinet, was not a national movement, that it was not over religious, and that every counter revolution will be nipped in the bud by the imposing demonstrations in favor of the constitution.

It is reported that the sultan, seeing the hopelessness of the situation, has sent his chamberlain and his secretary to the grand vizier with orders that the government make peace with the young Turks on any terms in order to prevent general bloodshed. The sultan is described as ready to sacrifice himself in order to save the fatherland from catastrophe. The Turkish warships stationed at Smyrna are loyal to the young Turks.

Orders have been issued for both French and German warships to proceed at once to Turkish waters.

The Bourses of Paris and Berlin, and the London Stock exchange showed confidence today that the young Turks would have an easy and rapid victory.

SULTAN REPORTED TO BE IN FIGHT.

Constantinople, April 19.—The Sheikh-ul-Islam, the head of the church, is preparing a written declaration to the country, pronouncing the fall of the sultan.

It is rumored here this afternoon that the sultan has fled, but the report cannot be verified.

READY TO SUPPORT LIBERAL ARMY.

Saloniki, European Turkey, April 19.—The local committee of the young Turks today received a telegram from the liberal union at Constantinople, offering co-operation to bring about the restoration of the constitution. The committee replied:

"It is impossible to reach an understanding by telegraph. Within two days we will be in Constantinople."

Constantinople, April 19.—It is expected in Constantinople this morning that the main body of troops loyal to the young Turks that have concentrated outside of Constantinople will begin soon to march across country on Yildiz Kiosk, with the object of forcing the abdication of the sultan.

The troops loyal to the young Turks continued their advance on Constantinople last night and it is believed here that they soon will occupy Makrikeny, a town ten miles from the capital.

Two advance guards precede the main body of the soldiers. One is composed of three hundred men, half of whom are officers, while the other numbers one thousand men. These two columns are expected to occupy Pera and Galata, the foreign and official quarters of Constantinople, as soon as possible in order to protect foreigners in the event of rioting.

Many of the troops in Constantinople favor the young Turks and resistance is hardly expected.

MACEDONIANS MEAN BUSINESS.

London, April 19.—The Macedonian troops intend to enter Constantinople today and enforce their demand for the abdication of the sultan. The new ministry is tottering. It is believed that adequate steps have been taken to guarantee public order.

The foregoing statement was received in London today in a code message from Constantinople. It was sent by the local agent of a well known banking firm.

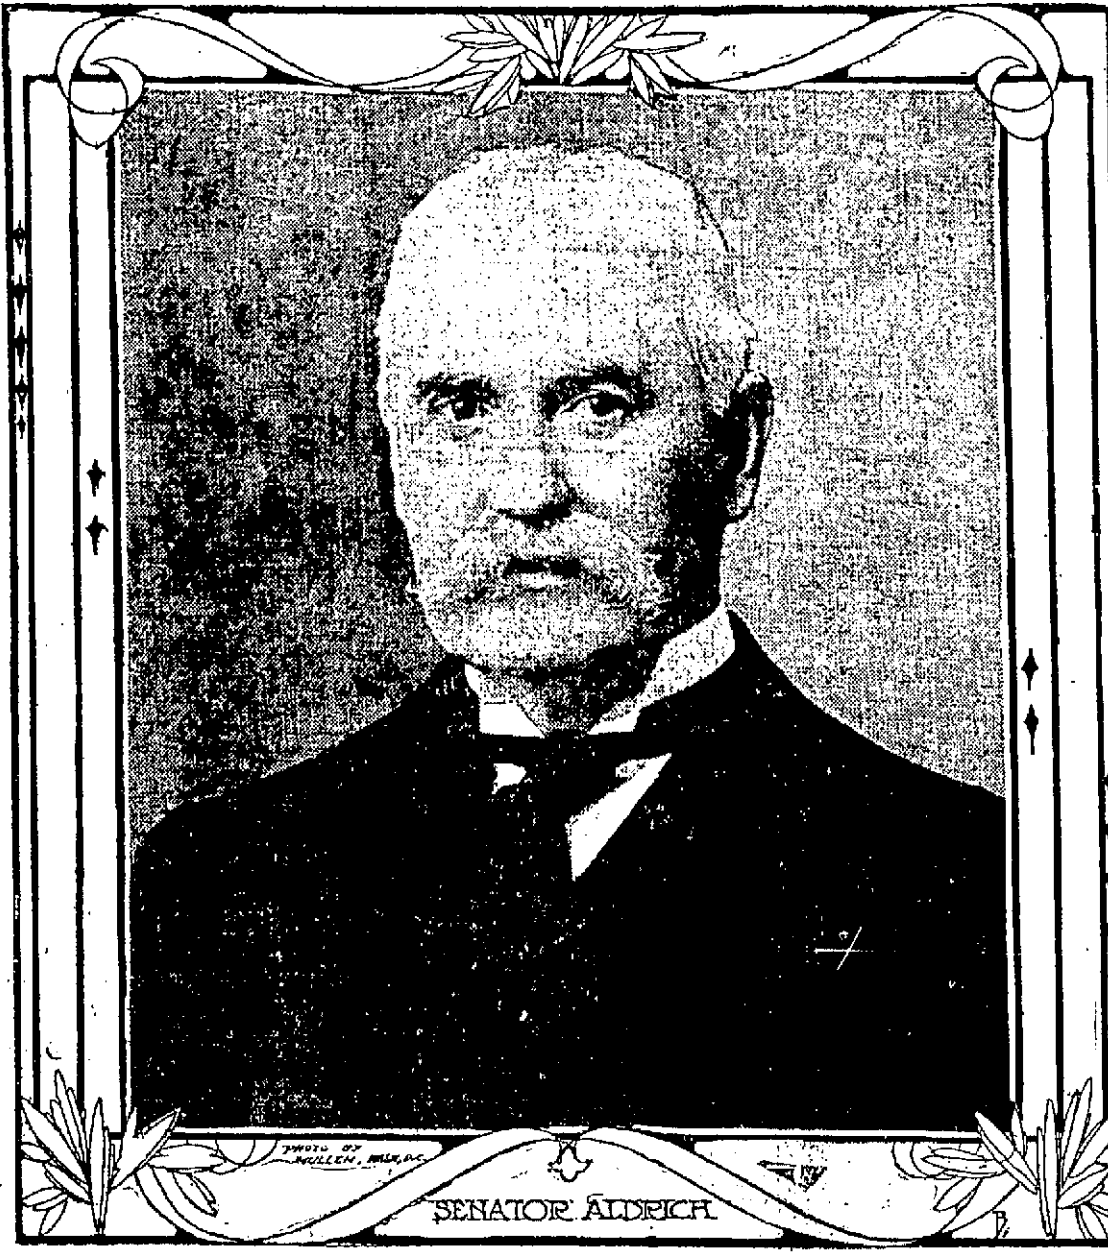

AMERICANS WERE KILLED.

Constantinople, April 19.—The American vice consul at Mersina, John Delbas, reports that the disorders at Adana are quieting down.

The two American missionaries, D. M. Rogers and Mr. Maurer, were killed Thursday afternoon while attempting to extinguish a fire in the house of an aged Turkish woman. They were shot dead. The missions at Adana and Tarsus are now receiving adequate protection. Mersina is anxiously awaiting relief. The killed at Adana are estimated at more than one thousand, but no particulars of the massacre are available.

Boss of the United States Who Reported Tariff Bill to That Body.

SENATOR ALDRICH

ALDRICH REPORTS THE TARIFF BILL

Man Who Rules the Senate
Puts Revenue Measure
Before That Body.

SAYS IT WILL BE FOUND ADEQUATE

Gives Out Hint That Income Tax Will Not be Needed or Proposed.

Washington, April 19.—In opening the debate on the pending tariff bill today, Senator Aldrich, chairman of the committee on finance, assured the senate in most positive terms that the bill reported from his committee would produce ample revenue for the government. He suggested that if, by any possibility, those estimates should prove to be incorrect, the duty of congress would be to "reduce expenditures and make them conform to actual revenue conditions and not to impose new and onerous taxes."

While he did not refer specifically to any proposition to impose an income tax, his statement declaring that ample revenue may be derived from other sources, was accepted as direct opposition to all such propositions.

The net increase from customs over the existing law, according to a statement furnished each senator, was estimated at $11,666,748 for the Payne bill as passed by the house and $9,934,426 under the bill as reported from the senate committee.

Mr. Aldrich's Address.

"The practical question to which has your attention today is, 'Will the bill as reported from the committee on finance produce sufficient revenue when taken in connection with the internal revenue taxes and other existing sources of revenue to meet the expenses of the government without imposition of additional taxes?' I answer unhesitatingly, for a thorough and careful investigation of the facts and conditions likely to surround the problem, that it will."

Mr. Aldrich submitted statements showing the receipts, disbursements, surpluses and deficits, actual and estimated, of the treasury for the fiscal years 1900 to 1911 inclusive. His estimates for the fiscal years 1909 to 1911 inclusive, were as follows:

Fiscal Year.	Receipts.	Disbursements.	Surplus.
1909.	$605,047,220	$674,508,630	$69,462,450
1910.	655,000,000	700,000,000	45,000,000
1911.	695,000,000	655,000,000	20,000,000

"Deficit."

Canal Matters Cut Out.

"In these statements both the receipts and disbursements for the Panama canal have been eliminated for obvious reasons," said Mr. Aldrich. "It is the policy of congress, which I think has universal approval that payments for the canal and its construction should not be made from current revenues but met by the sale of bonds."

"Business activity and the movement for increased importations has already commenced," continued the senator.

"We can feel the change in the air. If the statements I have submitted are approximately correct, the independent question arises: In what way is the

WOMAN WITH BOYLE IN KIDNAPING NOT WIFE

Is the Daughter of Wealthy and Respectable People.

Mercer, Pa., April 19.—That the woman charged with the abduction of Willie Whittle from Sharon last month is not the wife of James H. Boyle, but is the unmarried daughter of wealthy parents whose character and standing are above reproach, is what the state expects to prove in the approaching trial of the kidnaping cases.

Detective L. V. Kepner, who disappeared from Mercer immediately after the recent visit of Mr. and Mrs. H. Choteau Dyer, of St. Louis, has returned and announced that he has positively identified the woman.

Attorney Cochran, who is representing Mr. Whittle in the prosecution, has refused to allow the identification to be made public but will endeavor to have it introduced at the trial. Telegrams said to have been sent by Boyle from Sharon to the woman at Warren, Ohio, about the time of the kidnaping and from her at Warren to him at Sharon, will be brought into evidence to connect the woman with the abduction.

INSANITY PLEA FOR CAPT. PETE HAINS AT FLUSHING

Slayer of Billy Annis is Brought to Trial for His Crime.

Flushing, N. Y., April 19.—Insanity, both at the time of the killing of William E. Annis, and since then, was expected to be the chief point in the defense in the trial beginning today of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., charged with the murder of Annis at the Bay-side Yacht club on August 15th last. Counsel for the defense announced that Hains' mind was unbalanced by the stories of the friendship of Mrs. Hains for Annis.

Whether or not Mrs. Claudia L. Hains, wife of the defendant, would be called as a witness for the prosecution was not certain and much depended upon that point. Fifty witnesses were summoned for the defense.

The selection of a jury began before Justice Garretson in the supreme court at the opening of court. Captain Hains was brought over from the Queens county jail at Long Island City. He looked pale and wore a heavy dark beard.

The district attorney said he had no formal promise from Mrs. Hains, the defendant's wife, that she would testify for the people, but that she left Boston and probably would be accessible if wanted.

PATTEN AND HIS COHORTS UNLOAD

May Option Takes a Slump on Moderate Selling by the Bulls.

JIM PATTEN MADE
VERY TIRED MAN

Cincinnati Methodist Ministers Condemn King of Wheat Bulls.

Chicago, April 19.—Selling attributed to the "Patten crowd" and allies, although on a moderate scale today, sent the price of July wheat, off on the board of trade, the close on that option being 2 1/2 under Saturday's final figures.

At one time July sold at $1.18 1/2. This tempted profit taking and the consequent decline brought out stop loss orders under which the price dropped to $1.16 1/2.

Six cent bread seems assured in Chicago. One prominent baker has announced that he will advance the price one cent to that figure on May 1st and his example will be followed, if not preceded, by others.

No meeting of bakers will be held here, as any concerted action looking to an advance of prices could be prosecuted under the anti-trust law.

James A. Patten expressed a feeling of weariness when informed that Methodist ministers of Cincinnati had condemned the "action which cornered wheat in Chicago."

"What's the use of talking. Everybody who knows anything about conditions knows that I have not cornered wheat. Nobody has cornered it. Prices are high and they want a scapegoat. I'm the man chosen. If I sold every grain of wheat I have the price wouldn't drop."

PREACHERS CONDEMN PATTEN.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 19.—Despite the fact that Patten, the now wheat king, is building a gymnasium costing $150,000 for the Northwestern university, a Methodist institution of Evansville, Ind., the Cincinnati Methodist ministers passed resolutions today condemning "the action which cornered wheat in Chicago."

Dr. L. O. Hartman, pastor of Christie M. E. church, said that he believed that the ministers ought to take a firm stand for "social righteousness," and he presented the following resolution, which was adopted unanimously:

"Resolved, That we hereby reaffirm the position of the Methodist Episcopal church in regard to gambling and earnestly condemn every form of gambling, from gambling at the bridge whist to the speculations on the board of trade; that we especially condemn the action which cornered wheat in Chicago and view with alarm the far-reaching effect of such action in raising the price of bread stuffs. We particularly sympathize with those who must suffer on

FOUR CATTLEMEN LYNCHED BY MOB

Prominent and Well-to-Do Texans
Taken From Jail at Ada, Okla., and Hanged by Citizens.

"BAD MAN" MILLER ONE OF VICTIMS

Men Were in Jail on Charge of Complicity in Murder of Ex-United States Marshal Robbitt.

Ada, Okla., April 19.—Four prominent cattle men were taken from the city jail here today and lynched by a mob of one hundred citizens. The mob, it is said, was organized in the Commercial club rooms and marched to the jail at 3 o'clock today.

Only one man stood guard at the prison and he was quickly overpowered and the four prisoners seized, taken to a nearby barn and hung from the rafters.

The bodies were cut down about 9 o'clock. There was little excitement during the lynching. Those lynched were:

J. B. Miller, of Fort Worth, Texas.
B. B. Durrell, of Duncan Oklahoma.

Joseph West, of Canadian, Texas.
Joe Allen, of Canadian Texas.

West and Allen are well-to-do Texans and large cattle owners. The men were held on a charge of complicity in the murder of former United States Marshal A. A. Robbitt, near Ada last February. Robbitt was shot from ambush on his way home. An examination trial was held last Thursday, but no indictment was ever returned.

Miller a "Bad Man."

Miller, one of the victims, leaves a wife in Fort Worth. He had killed six men in his time and was a "chum" of the late Pat Garrett, the famous man hunter, and was with Garrett when he was killed at Las Cruces.

The mob was composed of many of the prominent citizens, and only a few were masked. The authorities were powerless to prevent the lynching as the early hour placed them at a disadvantage. The entire formation of the mob and lynching which followed was perfected in the most methodical manner.

So intense was the feeling during the preliminary hearing of the men that Judge Brown prohibited the publication of the evidence. Durrell was a nephew of Miller and turned state evidence against Miller and told of the complete plans of West and Allen to murder Robbitt, a long time enemy of both. No arrests of the lynchers has been made.

MILLER "BAD," BUT POPULAR.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 19.—While he bore the reputation of a "bad man," J. B. Miller, of this city, one of the four who were lynched at Ada, Okla., was popular among the best classes of citizens here. His wife and three children are held in high esteem. Reports vary as to the number of men Miller has killed, estimates placing it anywhere from ten to thirty. Miller shot and killed Alex Frazier at Toyah, in West Texas, several years ago, following a bitter family feud. He was acquitted, however. He also shot and killed James Foree in the Delaware hotel, in Fort Worth, during a cattle-men's convention. He was also acquitted for this affair.

Most of his victims were either cattle thieves or men whom he shot in self-defense. He was one of the last of the old time Texas cattle "kings," among whom it was a custom to use the six shooter in defense of rights.

BIG BALL OF FLAME DARTED THROUGH THE HOUSE

Walper Home Hit by Lightning, But Occupants Escape Injury.

Passing between several members of the family who were in the room, a huge ball of fire flashed through the home of August Walper at 1331 Walnut avenue when the house was struck by lightning Sunday afternoon shortly before 6 o'clock, and though the effect of the electrical glare was blinding, none of the occupants of the house were injured.

The lightning struck the chimney of the house, demolishing it, and the current apparently divided. One portion of it followed an eave trough to the earth and tore a great hole in the ground, while the remainder passed down into the house, knocking the stove-pipe from the chimney, and then in the form of a ball of fire flashed through two rooms and out at a kitchen door which stood open. Despite the severity of the bolt, none of the members of the family were shocked.

The storm was accompanied by a high wind which did much damage to signs in the downtown district. The glass display case at the Kogen photo studio was torn loose and smashed upon the sidewalk.

HURT IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH.

Two Well Known Pittsburg Men Probably Fatally Injured.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 19.—Charles F. McClinton and H. B. Imhoff, business men, were probably fatally injured early today when an automobile in which they were speeding on Grant Boulevard ran into a pile of dirt. McClinton is internally injured, while Imhoff's skull is fractured. A third man, supposed to have been a chauffeur, was injured but disappeared, leaving the two others unconscious.

Rev. S. J. Hartzler, of Goshen, officiated at the funeral service of the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin King, held today from the home on St. Mary's avenue.

COMPANY SELLS OUT ITS KANSAS CITY HOLDINGS

Old Fort Wayne Land Company Disposes of Western Real Estate.

P. A. Randall has returned from Kansas City, Kan., where, as president of the Fort Wayne Land company, he closed out the remainder of the old company's realty holdings to the West Chester Land company for $15,000.

The Fort Wayne Land company, originally composed of Mr. Randall, Dr. T. J. Dille, S. E. Moss, George W. Loag and Thomas Hanna, was organized more than twenty-five years ago and it purchased real estate in the vicinity of Kansas City, Kan., which it handled for investment purposes. The greater portion of the property was disposed of years ago, and of the original members of the company only Mr. Randall is yet living. The corporate existence has been maintained for the purpose of handling the remainder of its land, which has now been sold, and when this transaction is completed the company will in all probability surrender its charter. Mr. Randall has been its president.

In connection with his trip, Mr. Randall says he found the people of Kansas City delighted with the conditions under the abolition of the saloons, and they declare they would not under any circumstances permit them to again locate in the city. He was told that not only was the tax rate lowered, but the bank deposits much greater under the "dry" regime than under the old saloon conditions. In a city of 100,000 people there are but sixty inmates of the alms house, and there is so little need for the orphan's asylum there that it is now proposed to rent the building it occupies for a boarding house.

The Sewing society of Queen Esther Rebekah lodge will give a tea at the home of Mrs. Jesse Grice, 402 West Jefferson street, Tuesday from 2 to 5. A. D. Craig, formerly of Fort Wayne and now conducting a poultry farm near Richmond, is in the city to attend the funeral of his cousin, J. W. Clark, which was held this afternoon.

CRAIG.

Mrs. Catherine R. Craig, 76 years of age, died at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening at her home, 220 East Sutherland street, after an illness of two weeks from bronchial pneumonia. The aged woman had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Craig was born in Germany, August 1, 1832, came in childhood to America and spent the greater portion of her life at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, removing to Fort Wayne ten years ago. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church and is survived by six children—Sidney P. and James C. Craig, of Fort Wayne; Oscar R. Craig, of Chicago; George B. Craig, of Ottumwa; Miss Estelle L. Craig, of Fort Wayne; and Mrs. I. N. Bowman, of Upper Sandusky, Ohio. The husband died twenty-five years ago.

Funeral services were held this morning from the residence, Rev. D. W. Moffat officiating, and the remains were taken to Upper Sandusky for interment.

BOWER.

Jacob Bower, 43 years old and formerly a resident of Fort Wayne, died Saturday at his home in Kalamazoo, Mich. Mr. Bower is survived by his wife, two children, three brothers and six sisters.

TRUSTEE FILES BIG SUIT AGAINST NOBLE

Seeks to Recover Sum of $40,000—The Court News.

John J. Andre, trustee in bankruptcy of the Monroeville Co. company, has filed suit in the superior court through Ballou & Hoffman in which he seeks to recover $40,000 from William F. Noble.

It is set out in the complaint that the money is due for material bought by Noble through the company for which he turned over to it alleged worthless notes and that the creditors were left with nothing to satisfy the demands made by them upon the concern. The complaint further sets out that A. D. Pettit, became indebted to Noble in the sum of $11,000 and that he gave his notes for the amount and with the assistance of W. W. Tackaberry, twenty-three years old and inexperienced in business matters, they organized the concern with a capital stock of $20,000 and about $5,000 worth of assets to represent this capitalization.

Noble, it is stated, agreed to furnish the concern with capital and offices were opened in Fort Wayne through which material was bought for the company and the products turned over to Noble, who disposed of them and when payment became due he paid for the goods with the worthless notes of Pettit. It is also said that he sold the concern a hoop mill for $8,000 that was worth much less and that statements were given to the commercial agencies showing the company was worth $24,000 above all liabilities.

One order given the company by Noble, according to the complaint, was for seventy-eight cars of material and all of this was disposed of and the creditors of the company were left without their pay. There are several paragraphs in the complaint relating to other transactions and the demand is made for $40,000 with which to pay off these claims on the ground that Noble received the money.

After Thirty-Five Years.

Alma Doenges filed in the circuit court today a complaint against Fred Doenges asking for a divorce and $2,000 alimony. They were married in 1874, and the application comes after thirty-five years as man and wife. She charges that he placed a shotgun against her cheek and threatened to kill her and that he bought a revolver with the avowed intention of taking her life and she states she fears he will carry out his threats and a restraining order was secured to prevent him.

They own two houses of which one is occupied by them and the other rented. She charges that he collects the rent and refuses to support her and she is compelled to take in washing, do house cleaning and other work to provide for the table and her clothes. M. H. Bowen filed the suit.

Forced Out of House.

In her divorce complaint against William Spreen, Mary Spreen alleges that he has ordered her from their home, forcibly put her out of the house, has failed to provide for her and has falsely accused her of immoral conduct. She also says he has cursed, abused and struck her and in addition to her decree she wants $500 alimony. They were married in November 1899. P. E. Colerick is her attorney.

Court Notes.

The April term of the circuit court opened this morning and an assault and battery case against Zach Holson, appealed from the city court, was set for hearing. Some of the witnesses were absent and attachments were issued for them.

Four persons who applied for naturalization papers today in the circuit court were held up by the assistant district attorney, who looked over their applications.

Judge R. K. Erwin, judge pro tem in the superior court, heard a remonstrance against the Willow Creek ditch, Judge Heaton is at Hoagland attending a funeral.

Suit was filed this afternoon asking a partition of twenty-four lots owned by E. L. Crawl and others. The lots are located in the Rockhill heirs' second addition and the late Marion Teagarden held an interest.

In the circuit court Beatrice Noyer was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Taylor, of Monroeville.

Columbus, Ohio, April 19.—The Columbus Biscuit company today announced that it had determined to close down its bread department indefinitely because of the high price of flour due to the "corner" in wheat in Chicago. The company employs forty men in its plant and has a large trade with bakeries here and in towns adjacent to Columbus. The company will remain closed until the price of flour comes down.

RICHARD CUMMEROW DEAD.

Toledo Man, Well Known in Fort Wayne, Has Passed Away.

Fort Wayne relatives have been advised of the death of Richard Cumerow, of Toledo, Ohio. Mr. Cumerow was employed as book-keeper for the Buckeye Brewing company, and was married in this city about thirty years ago to Miss Louisa Tegmeyer, of Washington boulevard west. The widow and eight children survive. Funeral services will be held from the residence, 1713 Huron street, Toledo, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Three Men Killed on Grand Trunk Railroad in Michigan.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 19.—A washout sent a Grand Trunk freight train from Grand Haven, eastbound, into the ditch one mile west of this city early today. Three men were killed and one was fatally injured. The dead are William Stolz, engineer; Ranche, fireman, and Fred Quinn, head brakeman.

MAY DEFER SAENGERFEST.

Conflict in Dates Likely to Cause Postponement.

There is now every probability that the Indiana saengerfest, scheduled to be held in Fort Wayne June 19, 20 and 21, will be postponed to a later date, but the matter has been left to the decision of the arrangement committee. It is discovered that a number of other German society meetings of importance are scheduled for similar dates.

treasury to take care of the deficiencies I have indicated for the present and the following fiscal year?

The Treasury Surplus.

"The treasury has today, including the $1,681,275.83 which it is entitled to receive for reimbursement of canal expenditures, practically $100,000,000 of available surplus over a necessary working balance. This surplus is likely to be reduced say $6,000,000 between now and the 30th of June by additions to the deficiency for the current fiscal year, leaving on that date an available surplus of $94,000,000. If the estimates I have made for the year of 1910 are accurate, the estimated deficiency of $45,000,000 in that year would still leave a surplus in the treasury of $49,000,000 which would be increased from time to time in the subsequent years.

Can Sell Canal Bonds.

"In estimating the treasury surplus, I have assumed that canal bonds can be sold from time to time to an amount which will reimburse the treasury for all payments on account of the canal and that they are now available for that purpose. Further legislation will, however, be necessary in this bill to secure that result.

"The comptroller of the treasury has held that $60,000,000 of the amount paid is not reimbursable under the provisions of existing law. Existing legislation only authorizes the issue of two per cent. bonds, which must be sold at not less than par. These could only be purchased by or for the national banks. It would not be possible to sell a considerable amount of bonds of this character at par. It will therefore be necessary to authorize the

Kukhtar Bey is in command of the advance guard of the Salonikins.

Wanted the Head.

"When a deputation of pacification from Constantinople greeted him he asked gruffly:

"Have you brought me head of the old man? We cannot negotiate so long as you come without that head."

"This deputation, consisting of thirty men, wanted to proceed to Saloniki, but it was compelled to return here. Mukhtar Bey threatened to give orders to have them shot immediately if they attempted to get into touch with the soldiers.

"The troops which arrived at Spartakule Saturday afternoon under the command of Niasli Pasha proceeded last night to Kutchuk and Tchekmedjo, where it is believed they will await the coming of reinforcements. They will then embark on vessels and, avoiding Constantinople, march direct to Yildiz Kiosk. Many officers have deserted their commands and joined the Salonikins.

Delivered the General Staff.

"Izzet Pasha, chief of the general staff, went with ten officers yesterday afternoon to Kutchuk and Tchekmedjo, ostensibly to pacify the soldiers, but persons well informed say the real purpose was to transfer the entire general staff to the Salonikins.

The foregoing dispatch to the Lokai Anzeiger came out of Constantinople by way of Smyrna. The Turkish warship stationed at Smyrna are loyal to the young Turks.

The volunteers in the Vilayet of Kossovo number 50,000; Albania has furnished 72,000 more and Saloniki 6,000. The committee of Union and Progress has accepted an offer from Bulgaria to organize a militia for emergency purposes.

A military writer in the Lokai Anzeiger says it will require two or three weeks for the young Turks to transport the third army corps to a position in front of Constantinople, but that the defeat of the third corps before its concentration is impossible. The sultan will have time to make preparations to meet the Salonikins.

SCALDED IN BIG VAT.

New Albany, Ind., April 19.—Walter Young, Edward McCafferty and Edward King, employed at the New Albany Box and Basket factory were scalded this afternoon by falling into a vat of boiling water from which they were removing logs. Young will die, but McCafferty and King will recover.

FATAL MOTOR CAR ACCIDENT.

Hammond, Ind., April 19.—John Niemitz, of Black Oak, was fatally injured yesterday by the skidding of his motor car on a slippery road. The car plunged down an embankment. Both of Niemitz's legs were broken and he was hurt internally, but he dragged himself nearly a mile to East Chicago for assistance.

CERTIA IS FINED.

Peter Certia was fined $5 and costs by Judge Skelton today and he and his wife agreed they would not molest each other. The man in the case is a resident of New Haven and the fine was paid by his father. His name has been confused with that of the former proprietor of the Avonine bar, but he is not the same man.

INDIANA TOWN SCORCHED.

Winamac, Ind., April 19.—The town of Pulaski, six miles south of here, was partly destroyed by fire late last night. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss about $10,000. The town has no fire protection. Besides the town hall, the Link, Reinhardt, Shank stores and one vacant room were burned. The town hall was used as a theater.

CONVICTED WOMAN ENDS LIFE.

Atlanta, Ga., April 19.—Dr. Rosa F. Monnith, who was sentenced to the federal prison today for sending threatening and improper letters through the mails, drank prussic acid at her home this afternoon and died within a few minutes.

CITY BREVITIES.

The executive committee of the Fort Wayne Hotel company met at the Wayne club this afternoon to close up as far as possible matters pertaining to the hotel building.

A false fire alarm was turned in about 2 o'clock this afternoon from box No. 78, at the corner of Ferguson street and Broadway.

Mrs. Madeline Lucetta Ryley, the American playwright, presided at the meeting of the Actresses' Franchise league which was recently held in London. In opening the meeting Mrs. Ryley made a neat little speech in which she declared that actresses belonged to a favored profession, inasmuch as they worked side by side with men and received equal pay with men for their work.

GOV. MARSHALL IN COLUMBUS.

Columbus, O., April 19.—Governor Marshall, of Indiana, arrived here today and will remain until tomorrow. He stopped off to pay his respects to Governor Harmon and to learn something of Ohio's state board of agriculture. Indiana, having recently passed a similar law.

The Demonstration Is Certain.

The Scientist Will Be at Bradley Bros. Drug Store.

The demonstration of Root Juice will soon commence here the second time, and it is hoped that the remarkable medicine will do as much good as it did some two years ago. Reports are coming in from all over the state of wonderful cures the remedy is making, and has made. A traveling salesman to the reporter of this article: "While in Bluffton I had occasion to go to Gutell's drug store, and while there a man came in and bought six bottles of Root Juice. While it was being wrapped the man said, 'every sick person in my neighborhood is getting well on Root Juice.' I tell you it is doing wonders for some of them."

"After the man left the druggist remarked, 'Root Juice is the greatest medicine on earth. People come in here and buy it and when I see them again they invariably praise it. All say that it gives them a wonderful appetite and soon eradicates all symptoms of bad digestion. It seems to cure any trouble of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and is a wonderful remedy for rheumatism and weak, nervous people.'"

It is said that the drug store is usually crowded at every point the scientist is induced to visit. The demonstration will begin at Bradley Bros. Drug Store, (the old Warner stand), next Saturday. The Scientist will be at the store to meet the people and explain the remedy.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION IN SESSION

Congress That Will be a Hummer Has Opened in Washington.

Washington April 19.—Continental hall was packed to the doors today when the eighteenth congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution convened. The sessions will last throughout the week. The hall, capable of seating 1,500 persons, was wholly insufficient to accommodate the vast throng desiring to gain admittance.

As Mrs. Donald McLean, the retiring president general, was escorted to the platform by a number of charter members of the organization, she was accorded an ovation. On the rostrum besides the officers of the D. A. R. were Vice President Sherman, Ambassador Jussorand, Judge Henry Stockbridge, president general of the Sons of the American Revolution; Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the senate; the Right Rev. Alfred Harding, bishop of Washington, and Revs. J. Nevitt Steele and Round Cotton Smith.

Mrs. McLean delivered her opening address and was followed by the vice president, Ambassador Jussorand and Judge Stockbridge.

The women school teachers throughout the country are looking longingly toward Colorado, Wyoming, and Utah since the equal suffragists brought out the fact that in these states women teachers receive the same salaries as the men.

GOVERNMENT

secretary of the treasury to sell bonds of a different class. Bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the government after a few years could undoubtedly be sold at a rate not exceeding three per cent. and the necessary authority should be given in this bill for such purpose.

Makes a Suggestion.

"It should be the function," said Senator Aldrich, "of the committee on public expenditures recently created, to take into consideration long before the appropriation bills are received from the house, the estimates and needs of the various departments and report their recommendations to the senate, in order that responsibility for future extravagances may be clearly fixed. From an investigation more or less superficial, I am myself satisfied that the appropriations made last year could have been reduced at least $50,000,000 without impairing the efficiency of public service."

IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, April 19.—The house was in session for only five minutes today, the report of the conference on the census bill being presented. Several messages from the senate, including the return of the tariff bill, were received. No action was taken on any of these matters.

The conference report on the census bill probably will be taken up for consideration on Thursday next. Mr. Helm, of Kentucky, desired unanimous consent to have the clerk read to the house his resolution which provides for the annexation of Cuba should the people of the island at any time vote in favor of annexation to the United States. Mr. Payne, of New York, objected and at 12:05 the house adjourned.

STREET BEGGARS IN FOR A DRUNKEN RIOT

Spent Money in Saloons and Bangios—The City Court.

Charitably inclined people who put their money in the hats of two crippled beggars on Calhoun street three or four days last week will probably be glad to learn that the good coin they separated themselves from went to the saloons and bangios, as both of the fellows were in the city court this morning on charges of visiting houses of ill fame. They gave the names of Harry Corbett and David Tabor and were given an hour to leave the city.

Saturday night they went up to Chicago street with the money that they had begged during the week and after arming themselves with a bottle of whisky each they started on a drunken riot. Patrolman Buick started them out of town and they went back and told the officer he could not arrest them. He did, however, and they were in the city court this morning. Nine out of every ten beggars on the streets land in the station house and have to be sent out of town by the police.

The Other Cases.

William Burns' old mother came in eight miles from the country this morning to intercede for her son, who got drunk Saturday night. He was fined $5 and costs and sentence was suspended.

Mathias Sakretter, who was a member of a party that started a rough house on Chicago street Friday night, was fined $5 and costs for assault and battery.

WORK IS NEARLY OVER.

The work of fitting out five of the hose wagons about the city with chemical tanks and hose has nearly been completed and within a short time some of the runs now being made by the chemical at the No. 3 station will be taken away. That chemical answers to every fire alarm and with the growing size of the city the duties were too strenuous both for the men and the horses. The wagons being fitted out are those of houses No. 2, 4, 6, 7 and 8.

With Pleasure.

Tramp—Please, ma'am, can you assist me along the road a bit?
Mistress—Well, personally I am sorry to say I cannot, but wait a moment till I have unchained my dog here. He will do so with pleasure.—St. Louis Republic.

The Safe Side.

"Why do you devote yourself to ancient history?"
"Because," answered the prudent writer, "it's the only way to express yourself freely without taking chances on a libel suit."—Washington Star.

The Philosophic Farmer.

Been feelin' sort of blue of late,
For things ain't come my way.
I cannot seem to strike my gait
And make my efforts pay.
With carain's low and livin' high
My spirit's sort of fall.
And yet things might be wuss, fer I
Ain't had to go to jail.
The bull he tossed me o'er the fence
And spoiled my Sunday jeans.
The jackass lost my confidence
By eatin' all my beans.
The hired man is far from spy,
But feeds like any whale.
And yet things might be wuss, fer I
Ain't had to go to jail.

The parson's salary ain't paid,
And I must ante up.
The water tastes like lemonade,
And some one's stole the pup.
There ain't no punkin in the pie,
But that's a mere detail.
It chers me up to thing that I
Ain't had to go to jail.
—Carlyle Smith in New York Herald.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

FLOUR HAS INCREASED OVER $1.

Price Now Much Higher Than at a Year Ago.

The increase in the price of flour from $6.09 and $6.40 to $6.20 and $6.60 per barrel this afternoon by the Fort Wayne millers boosts the price to $1.20 per barrel more than was being paid at this season last year and this if it continues steadily will naturally have to result in an increase in the price of bread. As yet the bakers have not decided on any changes as they believe their supplies of flour will tide them over until the markets ease off. In case a charge should have to be made it is likely the loaves will be made an ounce lighter instead of increasing the price.

It really looks this time as though the sick man of Europe would have to go to the hospital.

They're off! Tariff debate has be- gun in the senate and we shall soon have a line on the real forces behind the bill. It is to the senate that the interests go for their doing and undo- ing.

The evident disposition to pull the municipal campaign wide open at this very premature season would almost lead to a belief that politicians and candidates had forgotten that the city elections now come in November in- stead of May.

When the loaf has become smaller and the price of it has become higher, as it now appears will shortly become the case, Mr. Jim Patten will have greater need than now of his glib proof that he has no corner on wheat and has had nothing to do with the boost in the cost of it to the baker and the housewife.

In the German army a practical test was made. Two picked regiments, in every respect equal, were experiment- ed with. One regiment was to have regular rations of beer while the other was to rigidly abstain for three months. Then they were tested as to health, sight, weight, marches, fatigue duty and target shooting. In every test the abstainers were ahead. Hence the German emperor issued an order permitting the soldiers to drink his health in water.

Unless all forecasts are put to the bad the convention of the Daughters of the Revolution is likely to be re- solved into a revolution of the daugh- ters. The transactions of this truly great society are always interesting, diverting and sometimes thrilling, but the situation, as it has been reported—though not veraciously, we hope—indicates a very tense state of feeling, and factions are in battle array and ready to follow their colors into the imminent deadly breach.

Within the next three weeks option elections will be held in twelve Indi- ana counties. Of these at least ten are practically certain to drive out the saloons. Two others—Delaware and Tippecanoe, whose seats are Muncie and Lafayette, respectively—are admitted by the temperance forces to be doubtful, though in greater degree in Delaware than in Tippecanoe. A strong fight is being made by the Pur- due university authorities at Lafayette to make Tippecanoe county "dry," and with great reason—more than the com- mon reason. A great college and a wide open saloon town are a bad com- bination.

The political troubles in Turkey are now more fully disclosed. The move- ment behind which the party of the Young Turks is working with a vast energy and admirable intelligence is a revolution, not a mere passing dis- turbance. Believing they have not only been tricked, but are destined, if non-resistant, to see the reforms which they believed were firmly established, swept away to be followed by a re- turn of the old regime, the progres- sives have raised the standard of re- volt and propose to force the abdica- tion of the sultan. Matters appear to be pretty much in their hands. The most efficient parts of the army are with them and the sailors of the Turk- ish squadron off Constantinople evi- dently can be relied upon to join forces with the revolutionists. It is a serious situation, but may eventuate in com- plete triumph of the party of the Young Turks without bloodshed. The sultan and his advisers and favorites may yield without a contest. The up- rising is formidable enough to dictate the prudence of such a course. There can be no doubt of the determined pur- pose and the matured plans of the pro- gressive party to establish for good and all the political reforms which were begun a few months ago when the initial concessions were wrung from the sultan. It is an interesting spectacle that the world is looking up- on in Turkey.

AN IMPORTANT POINT.

Editor of The Sentinel: In line with your editorial, "The City Beautiful," I desire to call attention to the fact that while it is true that most of the high- ways to be used in connection with the proposed river drive have already been dedicated and are today in use, yet a few new streets must be opened before the driveway can be made complete. These streets, if opened today, will cost little or nothing, in fact the bene- fits will exceed the damages in most every instance. But if we wait until houses, barns and factories are built along the river bank then the cost of opening these few streets may be so great as to defeat the whole scheme.

SAYINGS OF YOUNGSTERS.

Bright Bits of Humor From the Lips of Little Men and Women.

MISS BLANK'S second grade was notorious throughout the school for a lamentable lack of dis- cipline. It was in this grade that printed reports were first issued to the children. One day Tom came home, proudly bearing the first formal record of his progress in scholastic lines. His mother, having been a teacher, was pleased to note that her offspring's ratings were of a high order, but his lawyer father, having scanned the slip minutely, said gravely:

"I don't see any record of deport- ment here, Thomas."

For a moment Tom looked blank, re- volving the possible significance of the unknown term; then his face cleared.

"Oh," he said, "we don't have that in our room."

A little boy, of eight years attending school away from home wrote a let- ter to his sister, from which the fol- lowing extract is taken:

"We had a spelling match in school today, and I spelled all the boys down and won the 'Meddle.'"

My little niece, aged five, was help- ing herself to a cracker at the supper table and said "Please." Then she turned to her mother and said, "Mam- ma, I am getting so polite I say 'please' to myself."

One day Mary came to her mother and said, "Mother, my ear aches."

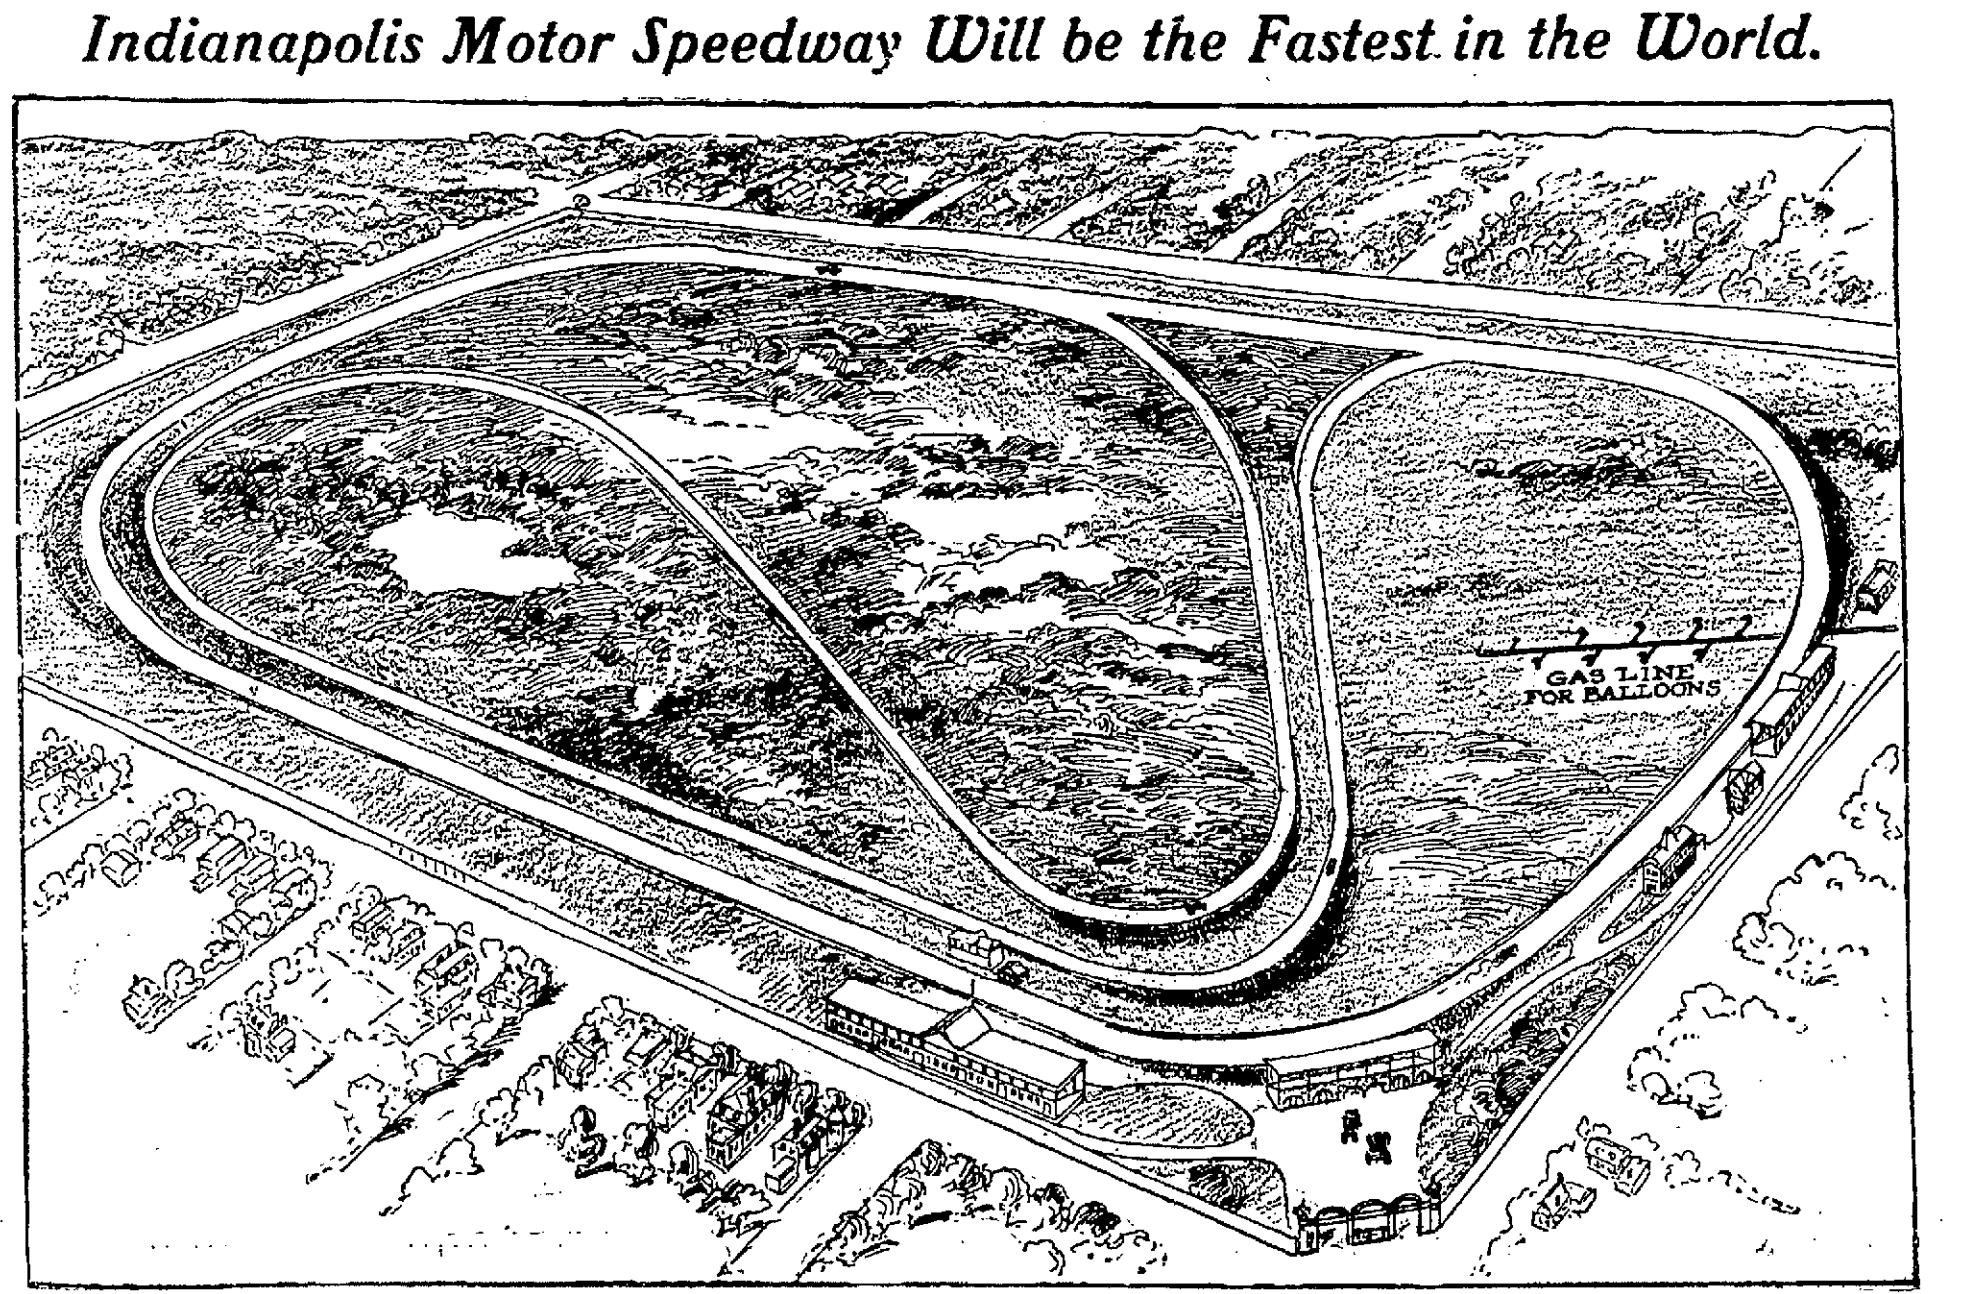

"Does it ache very bad, Mary?" asked her mother.

"No."

"Well, run out and play; then you will forget about it."

Mary went out, but pretty soon she came back and said: "Mother, my ear does ache. It is not the hole, but the ruffie around it."

Robert was at the zoo, standing awe- struck before the cage of a big grizzly bear. "Gee," he said, "I bet God got all scratched up before he finished that fellow!"—Delinctor.

Indianapolis, April 19.—With the completion of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, work on which is reported to be rapidly progressing, America will have the fastest enclosed track in the world, in the opinion of experts who have studied the plans for the modern Brooklands. A speed of 100 miles an hour, it is predicted, will be possible on the highly banked turns when they have settled and become solid.

There will be nothing just like the Indianapolis speedway if the plans are carried out as most recently projected, and that they will be there appears to be no doubt. Originally planned to be three miles in circumference, with an inside course adding two miles to its length, the scheme has been considerably altered. They now provide for an outside course of two and a half miles, necessitating a cutting down of the inside track, so that the entire route will be about four miles.

THE POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

To the Democratic Voters of the City of Fort Wayne, Ind.:

I herewith formally announce that I am a candidate for the office of mayor, subject to your decision at the next party primaries. In taking this step I wish to outline briefly some of the more important policies I will pursue should a majority of my fellow citi- zens decree that this most important office be entrusted to my care during the next four years. It shall be my aim to give to the city a progressive, business-like and economical adminis- tration at the least possible cost to the taxpayers.

I always have been an ardent ad- vocate of municipal ownership and control of public utilities, pleading for these principles and defending them at every opportunity that presented itself. I now again hail the opportunity to renew my fealty to the waterworks and electric light plant owned and controlled by this city, and I insist that the policy pursued by the present administration must be followed un- swervingly until every home in the city, however humble it may be, is given the opportunity to procure light from the city plant, thus making it possible for every householder to en- joy the comforts and benefits to be derived from the municipal electric plant to the same extent that all our citizens have shared in the comfort and immense benefits the municipal waterworks have produced during the past twenty-eight years of control and operation by the city. These munici- pal institutions must be protected and fostered, as they insure better water and better light at the lowest possible price to the people. The elevation of railroad tracks at all crossings where the safety and convenience of the pub- lic require same must be accomplished without further delay and in a man- ner calculated to give relief in the future as well as at the present time.

The laws we find them upon the statute books must be obeyed and en- forced. Those who offend must be dealt with as the law directs.

I am firmly convinced of the fact that well paved streets properly cleaned at all times, good sidewalks, well kept parks, playgrounds, as well as all other public improvements are at all times very essential to the development and progress of a growing city like Fort Wayne. As city controller I have at all times made the allowances for these purposes as liberally as the funds on hand would warrant me to do. I advocate well lighted streets but op- pose any scheme that will tend to an unnecessary waste of electric current.

By reason of the fact that I have been clerk of the various boards of the city administration, then city clerk, and under the present administration city controller, I feel safe in saying that I have thoroughly familiarized myself with the detail of all city af- fairs and the business of each of the various departments. I have always striven to do my duties in the manner set forth in the law—honestly, fairly, without flinching. If elected, I promise to pursue the same course and to de- vote my entire time to the business and best interests of the city and its people, as I am burdened with no bus- iness cares that would occupy any part of my time. Respectfully,

AUGUST M. SCHMIDT.

ELECTRIC TALKS

No. 85
Counting the Cost

Just what it will cost the taxpayer of Fort Wayne annually to undertake the urgently needed new paving, pavement repairs and other roadway construction needed on city streets, as noted in previous Talks, can only be estimated.

Assuming, however, that the 50 miles of new pavement needed to bring Fort Wayne up to the paving standard set by the eight cities of the class which were cited, is laid within a five-year period—ten miles a year—and that the City's part and expense in this outlay remains as in former years; assuming also that repairs and maintenance are so pushed as to bring the present pavements up to a fairly creditable and uniform standard at the end of that five-year period; and that the cleaning of streets, both paved and unpaved, is properly and thoroughly done meanwhile, it is probable that for every dollar spent in 1908 on the roadways of our city streets four dollars would need to be spent yearly for the next five years.

This would mean additional annual disbursements, over those of 1908, as fol- lows:

For Maintenance and Repair of Streets	$ 35,000
For New Street Improvements	33,000
For Street Cleaning, ...	52,000
	$120,000

It must be borne in mind that this $120,000 is in addition to the present or 1908 outlay, for the same purpose, of about $40,000. It also is an entirely separate expenditure from that for the new pavement itself, charged up to the owner of the adjacent property, which is benefited in value by the paving improvement.

In other words, if the property owners of Fort Wayne, at the end of five years shall have laid the 50 miles of new paving necessary to bring us up to the standard of our class of cities, they will have spent the $2,325,000 as noted in Talk 83, and the city will have spent on its street improvements, repairs, maintenance and cleaning in the same five years some $800,000.

This would mean $600,000—or $120,000 a year—more money raised and dis- bursed on city account than otherwise.

That means that in five years Fort Wayne could consider itself the peer of the other cities in its class both in its street improvements and the care it takes of them.

With a pushing of mileage in new cement walks, and vigorous encourage- ment of those tree-planting and other improvements that make for better streets, at the expense of the individual property owner, there is no doubt that within a five-year period Fort Wayne would be in the enjoyment of a new and progressive civic spirit, as a result of this co-operation between city and citizen, that could be relied upon to keep the civic improvement ball a-rolling for years to come.

$120,000 extra spent on the safety, convenience, comfort, healthfulness and at- tractiveness of a city in the name of street betterments, is so well spent that the extra taxation required is not felt as a grievous burden. It is a cause that pleads its own justification.

These betterments are for the GOOD OF ALL.
Money spent on them is a direct benefit to the ENTIRE community.
Can as much be said for certain other undertakings?

IN THE CITY'S CHURCHES

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS TO GIVE PROGRAM

A Social Function Tonight With Lecture at Wayne Street Church.

Under the auspices of H. B. Hunt's Sunday school class at Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church a very enjoyable social function will be given in the church parlors tonight. It is customary for the class to give affairs of this nature from time to time and a program of interest has been arranged for this evening. The affair will be attended not only by members of the church, but the local Methodist Episcopal ministers and their wives and others will be present.

A special feature of the social evening will be a stereopticon lecture on "Mural Decorations" to be given by Mrs. H. B. Hunt. A program of vocal and instrumental selections will be rendered and later refreshments served.

A MUSICAL EVENT.

First M. E. Choir Rehearsing Program for Future Rendition.

The latter part of May or during the first week of June the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church will render Gounod's "Gallia" and Hiller's "Song of Victory." These two beautiful musical compositions are being rehearsed under the direction of O. E. Richard and the next rehearsal will be held at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday evening. The attendance of all members of the choir is urged for the next rehearsal. The work thus far has progressed most satisfactorily and augurs success for the forthcoming rendition of the programs.

NATIONAL PEACE CONFERENCE.

Third Presbyterian Church Invited to Send Delegates.

J. D. Chambers, editor of the Third Presbyterian Church Record, of this city, is in receipt of a communication from the secretary of the National Peace congress, which is to assemble in Chicago, May 3 to 5, urging the local church to send delegates and to attend the sessions. The program as outlined is a very comprehensive and complete one. Its object is to outline and suggest subjects for conference at the next universal peace congress, which will be held at The Hague in 1911.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED.

Reception for Rev. J. K. Cecil at First M. E. Church Thursday Night.

Arrangements have been finally completed for the reception to be tendered Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Cecil at the First Methodist Episcopal church. The affair will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the auditorium of the church and promises to be the occasion of a very enjoyable gathering of the congregation and friends. The program arranged for the reception will be as follows:

Opening Hymn Congregation
Prayer Rev. Dr. C. U. Wade
Addresses of Welcome
W. J. Robinson, George W. Brackenridge, Mrs. T. R. Spaulding.

Response Rev. J. K. Cecil
Under the direction of O. E. Richard, C. C. Schlatter's orchestra will give a musical program. Mrs. O. E. Richard will preside at the piano. In the receiving line will be Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Cecil, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. C. U. Wade, Rev. and Mrs. N. V. Bloom, E. L. Feustel, superintendent of the Sunday school; Mrs. W. J. Hunter, president of the Ladies' Aid society; Carl Tumbleton, president of the Epworth league; E. B. Robinson, acting president of the Brotherhood; Mrs. E. B. Robinson, president of the Home Missionary society; Mrs. T. R. Spaulding, president of the Foreign Missionary society; Miss Edith Zook, superintendent of the Junior Epworth league; Miss Bertha Leach, president of the Standard Bearers; Mrs. O. E. Mohler, president of the children's department of the Missionary society; Miss Celia Hoffer, president of the missionary department of the Sunday school; Mrs. H. G. Weaver, president of the Cradle Roll.

The members of the ladies' reception committee are: Mrs. Charles Strothers, chairman; Mrs. Will Schoch, Mrs. Charles Paschal, Mrs. Frank Diehl, Mrs. Josephine Oppenlander, Mrs. A. A. Berry, Mrs. O. E. Mohler.

Gentlemen's reception committee: W. J. Robinson, chairman; J. W. Wisheart, L. N. Metaker, V. G. McFarland, Will Schoch, Dr. L. A. Baird, Dr. G. B. M. Bower, Dr. John J. Ogle, T. R. Spaulding, M. V. B. Archibald, O. E. Mohler, H. E. Noble, Mr. Scarlet and Hugh Beaver.

Following the program of the evening refreshments will be served. J. W. Wisheart is chairman of the program committee.

UNION OF SYNODS CONSIDERED.
English and German Lutherans of Missouri Synod May Merge.

Rev. Theodore F. Hahn, pastor of the English Lutheran church of the Redeemer, who attended last week at Pittsburg, the conference of the Lake Erie district of the English Lutheran synod of Missouri, gives some very interesting information relative to a movement discussed at the convention. It pertains to the union of the English Lutheran churches of the Missouri synod with the German Lutheran churches of the Missouri synod.

The meeting at Pittsburg was attended by representatives from churches between Detroit, Buffalo, Fort Wayne and Pittsburg. Two plans were proposed for the union of the two synods. The first was that of amalgamation, meaning that the English synod would disband its organization entirely and that each pastor and congregation would become a member of that German district within whose boundaries they happened to be located. This plan finds absolutely no favor with the members of the English synod, it being feared that the exercise of the same would merely bring about a rupture of the body.

The other plan and one more generally favored is that of the English synod forming a new district of the German synod, which at the present time is composed of seventeen districts. There is also a sentiment in the English synod which favors the continuance of the synod's present independent organization. The matter will receive further consideration at the next general convention, which will be held in July at Cleveland.

CLASS OF EIGHT CONFIRMED.

Impressive Services Held Sunday at St. Mary's Church.

The first communion and confirmation services at St. Mary's Catholic church on Sunday were very largely attended. At 9 o'clock a class of thirty-three boys and forty-one girls received their first communion. Rt. Rev. Mgr. J. H. Oechtering, V. G., celebrated the solemn high mass and preached the sermon. Rev. Gustave Hottenroth was deacon and Nicholas Allgeier, of this city, who is a seminarian at St. Francis' seminary, Milwaukee, served as sub-deacon.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerdig celebrated pontifical mass. This prelate administered the sacrament of confirmation to the class of first communicants, also six adults making a total of eighty. The sermon for the occasion was also delivered by the bishop. Mr. and Mrs. Adam A. Reinhardt acted as sponsors at the confirmation of the children. As their little daughter, Margaret, was a member of the class her aunt Miss Mary Reinhardt stood as sponsor for her.

ENTERTAINED FOR PRIEST.

Social Affair Given in Honor of Rev. James F. Irwin.

In compliment to their guest, Rev. James F. Irwin, of St. Cecilia's church, Brooklyn, N. Y., Dr. Edward J. McCoscar and mother, Mrs. Mary McCoscar, gave a very enjoyable social affair at their home, 129 West Jefferson street, Sunday evening. Those present were Rev. P. F. Roche and Rev. George Moorman, of the Cathedral, Rev. Charles Thiele, of St. Peter's church; Rev. A. E. Lafontaine, diocesan school superintendent; Rev. James Durham, of St. Patrick's; and Bart McCarty. The evening was spent sociably and later refreshments were served. The parish with which Father Irwin is identified in Brooklyn has congregation of about 11,000 people. The parochial schools of the parish have an enrollment of two thousand, one hundred children and the first communion class this year will number about seven hundred boys and girls. The visiting priest gave the guests a very interesting account of the conduct of the large parishes in the east and also had many interesting notes regarding his recent trip abroad. He is a most genial and gifted clergyman and is greatly enjoying his week's visit in this city.

BISHOP WILL OFFICIATE.

Dedication of New Church and School at Gary Next Sunday.

Next Sunday afternoon, Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerdig will officiate at the dedication of Holy Angel's church and school at Gary, Ind. Rev. Thomas Jansen, who was born and raised in this city is pastor there. The new edifice is of brick and is built with the school down stairs and the church on the second floor. Active preparations are being made by the young pastor for the forthcoming ceremonies. A week from next Sunday, the bishop will confirm a class at St. Patrick's church in the afternoon and at St. Peter's church in the evening. May 2 the prelate will administer the sacrament of confirmation at St. Catherine's church, Nix Settlement.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Daily Record of Current Events in Religious Circles.

The monthly meeting of the General Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be held on Thursday afternoon, April 29, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Kirkwood, 948 East Wayne street. The devotional will be led by Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Mohler will present a paper.

Owing to the meeting of the Presbytery, Rev. and Mrs. J. Clair Leech, of Westminster Presbyterian church, will be at home Tuesday evening only, from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The bi-monthly social meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James McKay, 1104 Lake avenue. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Emma Gecklin, Mrs. Charles Gumpfer, Mrs. C. W. Fulton, Mrs. Sophia Hulse, Mrs. Kitty Long, Mrs. Clarence Cook, Miss Estelle McKay will recite and musical numbers will be enjoyed during the afternoon after which refreshments will be served.

A meeting of the Sunday school teachers of the English Lutheran church of the Redeemer will be held on Tuesday evening. On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the regular meeting of the adult class of catechumens will be held.

A meeting of the Young Women's society of the First Presbyterian church will be held on Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. H. Pickard, 364 Washington boulevard east. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. John Watt, Mrs. Fred M. Smith, Miss Sadie Sturgis and Miss Jessie Sala.

As the next meeting of the Men's club of the First Presbyterian church will be the annual banquet and election of officers, the president appointing the following committees to propose the names of officers for the ensuing year: First committee—C. W. Orr, John A. Thieme, James B. Harpers. Second committee: C. A. Dunkelberg, C. D. Emmons, Rev. H. B. Masters.

Mrs. Amos Yoder, who has been spending the winter at Asheville, N. C., for the benefit of her health, has returned home greatly improved.

Chester A. Herran and Leroy Buckley, of Markle, Ind., left for Mare Island, Cal., today after enlisting in the United States marines through the local recruiting office.

GASOLINE, THE LESS USED THE BETTER, SAYS CHIEF

Warns Women Not to Tamper With Dangerous Liquid.

"The less gasoline used by people, the better off humanity will be. It is one of the most dangerous liquids known and no woman ought to tamper with it. Gasoline is always looking for some opportunity to send itself and it will do so upon the slightest excuse."

Fire Chief Hilbrecht was very emphatic in his statement that women should let the fluid alone and he is very anxious to see the use of it decline. "Why," said the chief this morning, "the merest leakage of gasoline in a stove is apt to result in harm to some one. People as a whole are naturally somewhat careless and the combination of carelessness and gasoline has resulted in too many deaths for anyone to have patience with it."

"Experiences within our own city within eight days recently," continued the chief, "demonstrated what an awful thing gasoline is. In two explosions of the liquid two people were fatally burned and coal oil nearly has caused another fatality. Coal oil is dangerous enough, but is a great deal safer than gasoline and just as advantageous as gasoline. I would like to see everybody using gas, however."

The chief further said that gasoline, when thrown over a person, soaks right through the clothing because of its lightness, whereas coal oil is heavier and does not penetrate so easily. Gasoline is also much more inflammable and difficult to extinguish and by an experiment today Chief Hilbrecht demonstrated how easily gasoline may become ignited, the fumes communicating a blaze though it may be nearly a foot off.

Of the seventy-eight fire alarms answered so far this year, just one dozen of them have been due to explosions of gasoline stoves or gasoline in some other way. In two of these cases fatalities resulted.

Red Cans for Gasoline.
In Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and in many of the northwestern states laws are being enforced to require wholesale and retail grocers to buy and sell gasoline in red cans with the correct label. This step is considered a most important one from the standpoint of minimizing danger and there is a movement on now to introduce a similar bill at the next Indiana legislature. There are a number of the grocers following that custom now but on the other hand there are many who sell gasoline without reference to such precaution.

KAISER IS NOT ILL.

Story of Fish Bone in His Throat Has No Foundation.

Vienna, April 19.—A private dispatch from Corfu received here today says that Emperor William was seriously ill as a result of swallowing a fish bone. The local newspapers issued extra editions and the rumor caused great uneasiness.

The police at once started an investigation of the source of the report, which quickly was discovered to be quite without foundation and nothing more than a bourse rumor.

WANT A SPUR TRACK.

Bursley Company Laying Plans for Future Home.

A request for a franchise for a spur track from the Nickel Plate to its new property at Pearl and Webster streets was made of the board of public works late this afternoon by the G. E. Bursley company. It is hoped that work on erecting a new warehouse for the company on the site formerly owned by the Nirdlinger estate will be started some time during the early part of summer though as yet plans for the new home are very indefinite. The building when erected will extend from Pearl to Main street along Webster and the three houses now standing will be torn down.

FORMS FOR CONCRETE.

Carpenters at Work on New Shoaff Office Structure.

Carpenters have started work on building the false forms for the concrete columns in the new Shoaff office structure and about two-thirds of those in the basement have been completed. The concrete will not be placed until the iron erecting work shall have been nearly completed. Because of the rain today the iron men were not working.

ARE LIABLE TO PRISON.

Reports of Men Impersonating School Enumerators.

Superintendent of City Schools J. N. Study has received a report or two of men impersonating the school enumerators who are taking the annual census and he wishes Fort Wayne residents to understand that such people are liable to imprisonment. One resident telephoned him that a man endeavored to gain admission to her home on the ground that he was an enumerator and when asked to show his credentials could not. He then took his quick departure. Any such further experiences Mr. Study would like to have reported to the police so that the false agent could be apprehended.

Mrs. T. J. Logan, who has been spending the winter in Georgia and Florida, is expected home next week. Mrs. Lawrence Berghoff, of 711 Edgewater avenue, is convalescent after an illness of several weeks.

OUR FAITH IN THE Kranich & Bach Piano and the Melville Clark Player-Piano

For many years we have trusted our musical standing to a great extent to the Kranich & Bach Piano and the Apollo Player-Piano. We have given these instruments not only our personal guarantee, but our unqualified endorsement.

We have advised our closest friends and our most valued patrons to purchase a Kranich & Bach Piano or a Melville Clark Player-Piano if possible. And now, after test of time, after years of constant usage, after the sales of hundreds of these wonderful instruments, we are proud to concede to them much of the credit for our success and standing among the musical people.

Every Kranich & Bach and every Apollo we have ever sold has given satisfaction. Every purchaser has remained a friend of the house, because every instrument has proven its worth by the service it renders and has backed up in every detail the splendid recommendation given it by our house.

Although the Kranich & Bach and the Apollo cost a little more than other pianos or player-pianos, they cost less to keep for the expense in the care of the making is paid back tenfold in the wear and in the pleasure of ownership.

Today we recommend the Kranich & Bach and the Apollo, if possible, with greater confidence than ever, for every day of Kranich & Bach and Apollo history adds just so much more to their wonderful reputation.

Rev. Dr. Zartman officiated at the marriage of Miss Ora Hume and Mr. Arthur E. Bailey, at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, at the parsonage of Grace Reformed church. A few near relatives were present at the ceremony. The young people are from the country and will make their home for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Hume.

A Family Gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bailey, of 202 Masterson avenue, gave a dinner party on Saturday evening in honor of the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wannamaker, of Toledo, O.; Mrs. Charles Widmeyer, of Elkhart; Gideon Bailey, of Goshen, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fishback, of this city. The gathering was one of marked interest to the entire company. Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker, Mrs. Widmeyer and Mr. Bailey were childhood friends and schoolmates near Warren, O. In the year 1855 the parents of Mrs. Widmeyer and Mr. Bailey moved to Goshen.

Inexpensive Frock for a Young Girl.

By Mrs. Jane Ford.

For a wash or foulard dress the design offered for young women will be most satisfactory, as the pattern may be secured in three sizes, for girls from fourteen to eighteen years of age. To copy it for a girl sixteen years old seven and one-half yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, or five and three-quarters yards thirty-six inches in width will be needed.

The frock has a full waist and skirt, with a choice of long or three-quarter sleeves. The skirt is the five gored model, finished with a deep dounce at the lower edge.

This design gives opportunity to use insertion as a trimming and the latter may be applied in a number of different ways. When the frock is copied in foulard it would be effective to make the yoke of Irish crochet and the insertion of the same kind. The latter could be arranged to outline the gores of the skirt and to form a scroll device on the front of the waist and upper part of the sleeves. It would be pretty to have the lace dyed to match the color of the silk.

When soft wool is used for construction bands of silk would make an appropriate decoration. They could be feather stitched on either edge and worked with the fashionable French knots, grouped, the groups arranged about one inch apart.

For wash, dresses Valenciennes, either of the German or French variety, will give satisfaction as a trimming, unless the fabric used for the frock is of a heavy weave such as gingham or percale. If either of these is employed Hamburg embroidery would be more suitable. The placing of the insertion is easy, if one understands that it must first be basted firmly and then stitched before the goods is cut from beneath.

A remarkably pretty costume in this design seen recently was of soft lawn, with the insertion arranged in double rows, with a space of an inch between. This space of plain material was ornamented with a row of feather stitching.

Soon after Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker, who are cousins of Mrs. Widmeyer and Mr. Bailey, were married and went to Salem, O. to live and remained there until 1896, when they moved to Toledo, where Mr. Wannamaker is now interested in one of the largest flouring mills of Ohio. During all these years the friends lost all trace of each other. Mrs. Fishback is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker, who are cousins of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey. The gathering was greatly enjoyed and reminiscences of the past were enjoyed during the fine dinner served at 6 o'clock and in the following hours.

Shook-Leaman.

Miss Lucy Leaman, of Chubbuck, and Mr. Clyde Shook, of Sherwood, O., were united in marriage at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the parsonage of Trinity M. E. church by Rev. W. P. Herron. A few of the nearest friends of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. The bride was married in her traveling suit. Mr. and Mrs. Shook left at once for a trip to Cincinnati, Buffalo and Washington. They will live in Sherwood.

McKee-Liggett.

The wedding of Miss Nellie Liggett and Mr. Charles S. McKee took place on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the bride's home, in Columbia avenue. There were present near relatives and a few of the most intimate girl friends of the bride. Rev. Dr. Samuel Waggoners read the marriage service. Miss Della Yahn was bridesmaid and Mr. Harry Pask, of Chicago, was groomsmen. The bride wore a pretty gown of white, an embroidered batiste fashioned in the princess style and trimmed with lace. A wreath of white rosebuds in her hair and a beautiful bouquet of bride roses further contribute to the beauty and attractive appearance of the bride. Miss Yahn was groomed in a pale green mull trimmed with lace and she held a bouquet of Marguerites. Miss Ethel McKee, a sister of the bridegroom, played the Mendelssohn wedding march as the bridal party came down stairs. The bride walked with her father, Mr. James Liggett. After the felicitations following the ceremony the wedding supper was served. The bride had a handsome cake in the center of the table and surrounded it was a wreath of rose leaves, tiny white tapers in crystal holders and rose leaves were scattered over the cloth. Roses also filled several vases and they further decorated the table. The decorations of the house were all in white and green and palms and large ferns were grouped before the mantel and fireplace, where the bride and groom stood as they were married. Mr. and Mrs. McKee left the same evening for an eastern trip. They will live in Allentown, Pa. Out of town guests at the wedding included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis McKee, Miss Ethel McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kinnaird, Mrs. Kate Brooks, all of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and Dean McKee, of Chicago.

Johnston-Elder.

The marriage of Miss Hazel P. Elder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Elder, of this city, and Mr. Pearl M. Johnston took place Saturday evening at the parsonage of Calvary U. B. church, Rev. C. F. Byers officiating. Mr. Johnston is an employee of the Pennsylvania. The bride and groom will live at 1338 Hayden street.

IN THE THEATERS

Another farce-comedy of the kind that the audience who saw "Charley's Aunt" and "Why Smith Left Home," enjoyed is the vehicle for the stock company at the Majestic to use this week. The name is "Brown's in Town." The comedy was written by Mark Swan, who also wrote "The Top of the World" and "A Good Fellow." While entirely different from the play of last week which proved so immensely popular the play for this week will likely be equally entertaining in a different direction.

"The Great Divide" is booked for an engagement at the Majestic Saturday matinee and night. No play ever written by an American dramatist has won such widely heralded approval by the foremost dramatic reviewers, and all theatrical writers have agreed that it marks an epoch in American literature. It has never yet had an adverse criticism as a forceful, brilliant and thoroughly American drama. "The Great Divide" comes here under the direction of Henry Miller, who presented the piece most of last season and all of the year before in New York, first at the Princess theater and Daly's theater, and later at the Academy of Music, for over 600 performances to capacity business. The production, including the entire scenic equipment, will be given here precisely the same as during the metropolitan engagement.

John Drew has scored such a success in "Jack Straw," the comedy by W. Somerset Maugham, in which he will be seen at the Majestic Monday, April 26, that Charles Frohman, his manager, has bought another piece for him from the same author. Mr. Drew played at the Empire theater in New York for four months and he is on a tour now that will not conclude until late in the summer, and that will take him to most of the leading cities of the United States. The new play probably will not be produced until next autumn, and possibly not even then, for Mr. Drew has expressed a strong desire to appear in a Shakespearean play and Mr. Frohman may make a revival of "Much Ado About Nothing" for him.

Girl Who Secured Release of Brother From Mexican Prison.

New York, April 19.—Successful in her mission of having her brother released from a Mexican prison, where he had been held for fifteen months on a false charge, Miss Josephine Shilling, seventeen years old, arrived in this city on the steamship Merida. Not until the young woman had interested the American ambassador in Mexico City and had a hearing before President Diaz was she able to have her brother given a hearing.

In 1907 Frank Shilling, the brother, left Ogdensburg to go to Mexico to buy tobacco. He remained in the vicinity of Mexico City for several months, and in January, 1908, went to Vera Cruz to take a boat back to the United States. On the day of his arrival he was walking through one of the main streets of the city when a man suddenly seized him and accused him of having stolen $2,700 from him. Upon her arrival in Vera Cruz she tried to get a hearing for her brother, but the authorities refused to take any action. She then went to Mexico City, where she interested the American ambassador in the case, and on March 30 succeeded in seeing President Diaz and stated the facts.

Excellent program of pictures is being shown today. Among those who will take part in the amateur program tonight will be Cella Smith, Genevieve Gordon, Catherine Reid, Fern Morris, Amelia Bashara.

At the Vaudeville.

A strong bill of attractions is engaged for the Temple this week. The big ones are Lew Hawkins, called the Chesterfield of Minstrelsy because of his wit and humor; Franklin Underwood, who with a company will present a comedy "Dobbs' Dilemma," and Lopez and Lopez, Spanish instrumentalists, who have won praises from Fort Wayne audiences before.

The remains of Mrs. Emma Kate Barnaby were shipped today for interment at Massillon, Ohio. Brief funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the family residence on Rockhill street, Rev. E. W. Averill officiating.

MORIARTY STOLE A LOCALS HAND NORTH RUN THAT WON GAME POLE LEAGUERS BEATING

Detroit Wins Fifth Victory of the Season—The Scores.

Detroit, Mich., April 19.—Detroit and Cleveland transferred the game scheduled for Tuesday next and broke all local records for baseball attendance. The game was excellent, despite the enforced ground rules, which did not affect the result. Moriarty stole home with two down in the fifth and his run decided the outcome, Detroit winning, 2 to 1. Both pitchers did good work and Birmingham and Bush featured the contest by their fielding. The score: R.H.E. Detroit 1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 3 4 0 Cleveland 1 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 2 3 1 Batteries—Mullin and Schmidt; Wright and N. Clarke.

Two-base hits—McIntyre, Cobb, Lajoie. Sacrifice hits—Rossman, Schefer. Sacrifice fly—Moriarty. Stolen base—Moriarty. Bases on balls—By Mullin, 2; by Wright, 2. Base on errors—Detroit, 1. Struck out—By Mullin, 7. Time of game—1:35. Umpires—O'Loughlin and Kerin.

ST. LOUIS, 6; CHICAGO, 2.

St. Louis, Mo., April 19.—St. Louis made sixteen hits off Altrock and had little trouble in winning by a score of 6 to 2. Powell pitched a good game. Hartnell in the fifth made a spectacular catch in right field off Cravath, chasing over the foul line and catching the ball in one hand. The score: R.H.E. St. Louis 0 0 0 1 1 2 2 6 16 1 Chicago 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 2 3 0 Batteries—Powell and Griger; Altrock and Sullivan.

The West Ends defeated the New Haven Grays Saturday 12 to 5. Batteries—Glutting and Donald; Blair and Dowling.

Darby O'Brien and His Men Slaughtered—The Score.

After a rather tight session on Saturday Jack Hendricks walked into Darby O'Brien's north pole leaguers yesterday afternoon and administered a beating that was a sight to behold and although the Fort Wayne club tabbed only seventeen runs, it is likely they could have copped off half as many more if they had extended themselves after the battle was safely stowed away.

Ed Pfeffer went in for the fray and Duluth got to him for two singles, a double and a triple, into which a sacrifice and a base on balls were injected and the opening round netted the visitors four runs. He was hooked and Harry Corns substituted.

Fort Wayne stowed the victory in the last half, with a single and a double by Blount, one single that went to Lindsay, a triple credited to Elston and Harry Corns' two-base knock. Marlon, drafted by the White Sox, and lost on account of a contract he had with Duluth, was sent in to repeat his no-hit-no-run performance at Lima a day or two ago, but he was hit so hard that O'Brien dragged him out in the third and Hult and Kohl finished the struggle. HENDRICKS GIVES A DATE TO "CAP" ANSON

Famous Old Player and His Coits Booked for Saturday.

Captain Adrian C. Anson, who has not played in Fort Wayne since he was a member of a team that tackled the Kekongas so long ago that the oldest inhabitant has to draw on his imagination a little to recall it, will be here with his Colts on Saturday, having been given one of the exhibition dates originally assigned to the Fort Wayne Shamrocks. Anson put the date on his books when he started an invasion of the east and has held to it, although he had no arrangement with the local club management.

The matter was put up to Manager Mart Cleary and he gave way to the veteran and cancelled one of his games to give the old war horse a chance to pick up a little money. The Shamrock game will be the following day, and will be the last on the local lot until the formal opening of the Central league season. Manager Hendricks was approached yesterday by his friend "Darby" O'Brien, of the Duluth club, who wants Catcher Gus Fogel and wants him badly. He saw him in action in the two games played by the club and likes him so well that he made a good offer for his services.

SHAMROCKS TO MEET AND SELECT A TEAM

First Base Proposition is Giving the Management
Some Trouble.

A meeting of the older members of the Fort Wayne Shamrocks will be held tonight for the purpose of filling out the vacancies on the club and one of the most troublesome propositions they will face is the selection of a first baseman. The practice season has not developed a strong man for the job and there is a disposition to bring "Doc" Koenig in from short and put him on the first center field and put him on the first station. It is not needed there unless some other shift can be made.

Jack Smith will go to the outfield to make room for "Fly" Ehrenman at second. He has shown ability in the workouts that entitles him to the job. Froesch and Roff are the most promising men for short and the former has made a showing that induced his teammates to dub him Hans Wagner.

Jess Runser, who played with South Whitley last season, will be at third for the club and Monte Hoffer will be the first catcher with another man to be selected to help him out. Palmer and Robbins are sure to be on the pitching staff and the club will carry one more man for the whirling department. He will be named tonight.

Italus, Gibson, Borgman, McLean and Braithwaite are trying for the outfield places and there had been no decision today as to which would draw the jobs. There is some material in the club that looks like it would strengthen at the meeting tonight.

The players put in an afternoon at Shuttout yesterday and Koenig, with his Cubs, trimmed Robbins and his White Sox, 4 to 1. Koenig was in the box for the Cubs and his pitching put him in the running for a regular berth.

Palmer is in better condition than any other pitcher and is beginning to bend and will be put against Fort Wayne next Sunday afternoon. Nold has a sore arm and aside from this the men are in good condition for the opening of the season.

CENTRAL LEAGUE NOTES.

Manager Joe Ralphy, of Grand Rapids, and "Dumey" who recently bought from Columbus, were roommates last season when they were with the Columbus team.

Transportation has been sent from Evansville to Covington ordering him to report if his pitching arm is in shape to go ahead from the start of the season. If his arm is not right Knoll will get along without him.

Terre Haute stands to lose the services of J. M. Smythe, utility outfielder. He thought he was a free agent when he signed, but it has developed that he belongs to Mansfield, in the Ohio State league.

"Whitey" Morse, the Dayton second baseman, is back from a visit to "Bonesetter" Reese. He was advised to have his arm massaged regularly and it is believed it will come around all right.

After losing two of three games to Fort Wayne, Rochester trimmed South Bend in the only engagement scheduled there.

"Pop" Schriver is making good with New Orleans and Bill Phillips is trying to get Jack Miller from the Pirates to bolster up his catching department.

King Kelly is having a hard time making the catching staff at Dayton. Bade Myers has a couple of youngsters who look mighty good to him.

Pitchers Humphries and Steen pitched a no-hit-no-run game for Grand Rapids yesterday against a Columbus semi-professional club.

SUNDAY BALL DRAWS BIG CROWD AT CAPITAL

No Attempt is Made to Interfere With the First Game.

INDIANAPOLIS, 2; COLUMBUS, 1.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—Before 25,000 people, perhaps the largest crowd that ever attended a ball game in Indianapolis, Sunday baseball was inaugurated, the home team winning by a score of 2 to 1. The game was the first played on Sunday since the legislature last winter enacted a law making Sunday ball legal. No attempt was made by the opponents of Sunday ball to interfere with the game. Glaze won his own game in the seventh with a clean single. The score:

Indianapolis 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 2 5 8
Columbus 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 6 2
Batteries—Glaze and Howley; Goodwin and James.

Two-base hit—Hlopka. Base on balls—Off Goodwin, 1. Balk—Glaze. Hit by pitcher—Burke, Chadbourne. Struck out—By Glaze, 2; by Goodwin, 2. Stolen base—Burke. Umpires—Owens and Eickman. Time—1:25.

LOUISVILLE, 2; TOLEDO, 1.

Louisville, Ky., April 19.—Halla and West indulged in a pitchers' battle in the opening game of the series. Louisville won, 2 to 1, in the eighth inning, when Halla tripped with Olson and Quinan on the bases, after two outs. First fielding abundance, with honors about even. The score:

Toledo 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 1 1
Batteries—Halla and Peltz; West and Clark.

Stolen base—Delechary. Two-base hits—Landroth, Elwert. Three-base hit—Halla. Double plays—Nili to Hinchman to Daubert; Hinchman to Hinchman. Struck out—By Halla, 2; by West, 2. Bases on balls—Off Halla, 2; off West, 1. Time of game—1:25. Umpire—King.

ST. PAUL, 4; KANSAS CITY, 0.

Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—After shutting the opposing team out for seven innings, Swan of Kansas City, went to pieces and lost the opening game with St. Paul by a score of 0 to 4. The score:

Kansas City 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2
St. Paul 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3 4 5 1
Batteries—Swan and Ritter; Lelso and Carlsch.

Two-base hits—Hoffing, Murray. Three-base hit—Flynn. Double play—Liese to Flynn. Struck out—By Swan, 5; by Lelso, 6. Bases on balls—Off Swan, 1; off Lelso, 1. Hit by pitcher—Ritter. Time of game—1:30. Umpires—Conclan and Sullivan.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

CINCINNATI, 5; ST. LOUIS, 3.

Cincinnati, O., April 19.—The largest crowd that ever saw a local game was out to see Cincinnati and St. Louis do battle. Lush, the visitors' pitcher, was wild in the early stages of the game and also was hit hard. Moore, who succeeded him in the fourth inning, did not allow a hit. Campbell, the Cincinnati pitcher, was wild, but was saved by good support. The score:

Cincinnati 4 0 1 0 0 0 0 5 7 2
St. Louis 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 3 2
Batteries—Campbell and McLean; Lush, Moore and Bresnahan.

Three-base hit—Lobort. Sacrifice hit—McLean. Double plays—Huggins to Mohlitzel, Mowrey to Huggins to Mohlitzel. Bases on balls—Off Campbell, 5; off Lush, 3; off Moore, 2. Struck out—By Campbell, 4; by Lush, 2; by Moore, 2. Hit by pitcher—By Campbell, Evans and Byrne. Passed ball—McLean. Time of game—1:55. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

The first extra-inning game of the Chicago season yesterday and also suffered the first shut-out, Pittsburg defeating the home team with one run in the twelfth. Grand fielding on both sides cut off budding scores in several innings, and, all in all, it was the best contest played on the home field this year. Abstein led off in the twelfth with a fly just out of Brown's reach, was sacrificed to third and scored on Tinker's fumble. The score: R.H.E. WRECK TRAIN WRECKED EN ROUTE TO A WRECK

Wabash's Big Steam Der- rick Thrown in Ditch at Kunkle.

The big new steam derrick on the Wabash was thrown over on its side in the ditch near Kunkle, Ohio, at 1 o'clock this morning and was pretty badly damaged. There was a broken freight car accident near Adrian, Mich., about midnight and the wreck train was summoned from Montpelier to pick up the crippled car and clear the tracks and while en route to the scene of the wreck one of the cars of the wreck train became derailed and caused the derrick to leave the tracks and go in the ditch. None of the men on the train were injured and the loss is confined to damaged cars and derrick and a short piece of track. The road was blocked, however, for an hour or two and passenger trains due at that point at that hour were delayed. Another wreck occurred on the Moberly division of the Wabash last night, blocking the tracks and delaying passenger trains, but the particulars could not be learned. No. 23, due here shortly after 10 o'clock, was delayed four hours by this accident.

DEEDS SIGNED TODAY.

Four Outlets Secured by Drudge Machine Company.

Definite action on the location of the big plant for the American Steel Drudge company was taken today, when deeds were issued to the management for outlets Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 18 in Rockhill's addition, which is west of the Knott-Van Arman Manufacturing company's plant, on Taylor street. The work of putting down a deep well and otherwise preparing for the erection of the reinforced concrete factory building, 103x300 feet, will begin this week and it is expected that the plant will be in operation July 1. A spur track leading off from the Lake Erie and Fort Wayne Belt line will reach the grounds and it is proposed to push this work through at once, in order that the building material can be handled over it. The proposed plant was described in full in a previous issue of The Sentinel.

MACHINISTS HAVE GOOD TIME.

Organizer J. J. Keegan, of the International Association of Machinists, addressed a good sized audience in the assembly room of the court house Saturday night on the benefit and necessity for trades unions. The meeting was announced as an open gathering and there were many there who were engaged in other than the machinists' trade and all were impressed with the force of the argument advanced by Mr. Keegan and the different unions.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N.J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering. —Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N.J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaint, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

bash machine shop, and Don Multhead, of the store room, who went to the Lake of the Woods Saturday, returned last night heavily laden with bass and bluegills.

C. R. Colmey, road foreman of engines of the Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Colmey are at Dunkirk, Ohio, to attend the funeral of a relative.

William Jeffries, of the Wabash shops, is undergoing treatment at Decatur for an injured eye. A piece of steel got in the optic Saturday.

The Geneva Milling and Grain company has placed an order with the Bass company for a tubular boiler to be installed in the plant at Geneva.

Machinist W. G. Page, who was called to Cincinnati last week by news of the death of his sister, resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania round house this morning.

G. M. Daly, an electrician, has returned from Sandusky, Ohio, where he was engaged several days in repairing an electric power plant for the Pennsylvania company.

H. Smith, a car builder at the Pennsylvania shops, with his wife and daughter, will enjoy a visit with friends in Chicago the latter part of the week.

Bollermaker Guy Springer and his gang, of the Bass shops, have completed the work of installing tanks and apparatus for a water softening plant at the Wayne hotel.

George Fuhlgum, night trainmaster of the G. R. & I., who had been off duty two weeks because of sickness and death of his mother at Fountain city, resumed work Saturday night.

Wabash Yardmaster Dennis Hayes is suffering severely from an attack of neuralgia of the face and is off duty. Conductor G. W. Thibault is acting yardmaster during the absence of Mr. Hayes.

A. W. Whitehurst and W. McDonald resigned positions at the Wabash shops this morning. Bollermaker O. Edwards also resigned a position with the Wabash this morning. He has taken employment with the Pennsylvania.

John Malone, a Wabash switchman who has been suffering from an affection of the eyes for the past seven weeks, will go to Decatur, Ill., next Wednesday to take treatment at the hands of the company's oculist.

C. M. Forest and H. M. Weaver resigned positions at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning. Mr. Forest came here from Lima, Ohio, a few months ago and it is understood that he intends to return to that city.

Mrs. Clement Ruppel, of Wilt street, has returned home from St. Joseph hospital, where she underwent a surgical operation two weeks ago and is getting along nicely. She is a daughter of Dennis Collins, the veteran Pennsylvania shopman.

Fred Clark, a clerk in the railway office of the Cincinnati Northern, at Van Wert, was in the city this morning calling on old friends. Mr. Clark was employed as a clerk in the Wabash store room a year or so ago.

Dr. E. L. Wagner, of the Pennsylvania Relief department, has returned from Philadelphia, where he went a week ago on receipt of news of the death of G. G. Pottsgrove, the father of the late Mrs. Wagner, which occurred last Monday.

A typographical error in the item concerning the coming ball of the auxiliary to the R. R. T. made it appear that the event would take place April 25. The ball is booked for Monday, April 26, at Minnet hall, and it will be one of the best dances of the season.

C. L. Bittner, a Pennsylvania shopman, was injured in the sack Saturday night while assisting in rearranging his household furniture. He will be unable to report for duty for a few days. H. C. Walda and C. W. Smenners are absent from the shops on account of sickness.

W. L. Will called at the Pennsylvania motive power offices this morning and spent an hour with "the boys." This was the first time he had been in the office since he left a month ago to undergo an operation for appendicitis at Hope hospital. He is rapidly regaining strength.

W. E. Davis, assistant to General Superintendent A. M. Schoyer, of the Pennsylvania, who arrived in the city Saturday evening to spend Sunday with his family, remained over today to attend the funeral of the late J. W. Clark. Mr. Clark and Mr. Davis were associates in railway work a quarter of a century.

The steel for the construction work on the third story of the laboratory building at the Electric works, arrived Saturday and is being unloaded.

President Taft has leased the Robert D. Evans cottage, at Beverly, Mass., for his summer home. The house is located at a point about thirty miles north of Boston, at Woodbury Point, on Beverly Cove, an inlet of Salem Bay. It is just seven miles away from the fashionable resort, Manchester-by-the-Sea. The president plans to leave Washington with his family soon after the adjournment of congress, during the early part of June.

All of the other building material is also being delivered on the grounds and the work of construction will commence soon.

H. G. C. Korte, a carpenter, who spent several weeks in the west, has returned and reported for duty at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

Theodore Riley, Pennsylvania yard conductor, is sixty-five years old today and probably one of the most active men of his age in the city. He worked up to the noon hour as usual, when he quit for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late J. W. Clark, who was in the same army division in the Fifth corps, both being in New York regiments.

Machinist Frank Hughes has resumed work after being sick a few days. C. W. H. Koehlinger, who was sick two weeks, also reported for work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

F. E. Sarver, who had a hand hurt a week ago, also reported for duty this morning.

Pennsylvania Engineer John L. Gebert has reported for duty after an absence of three months, during which he was very sick with pneumonia. Mrs. Gebert has also been ill with that disease and is still suffering from the effects of the attack, though she is improving. Engineer Gebert will take a work train position for awhile.

Thomas McGuire and Mr. Smith, of Grand Rapids, came here today to attend the funeral of the late J. W. Clark. Mr. Smith has been running a passenger engine on the G. R. & I. north out of Grand Rapids ever since that portion of the road was built. Mr. McGuire was similarly employed on the south end until a year ago, when he was retired on account of his age.

Col. R. G. Thompson, district passenger agent of the Wabash, was here last Saturday packing up his household goods for removal to Indianapolis, which city is now his official headquarters. Colonel Thompson has been a resident of Fort Wayne for over a quarter of a century and his removal is a matter of regret to thousands of acquaintances, as well as to himself.

A letter from Noble Sappenfield to a friend in this city brought news of a coming matrimonial affair in which he will be one of the most interested parties. Mr. Sappenfield will marry a charming young lady of Mitchell, Ind., May 8, and take her to Silkeston, Mo., where he is associated with his brother in the lumber business. Mr. Sappenfield was assistant cashier at the Wabash freight office up to last February, when he resigned to go to Silkeston.

The Electro-technic club will depart from the usual character of the addresses before it next Tuesday when it will listen to a lecture on "Banking" by C. H. Worden, vice president of the First National bank. Usually the subjects are of a technical character, but the Electro-technic club believes in the dissemination of knowledge of all kinds and hereafter will pay more attention to matters outside of electrical and mechanical subjects.

The Textiles, the Kaiting Mills ball team, is now fully organized and ready for the ball campaign. Harry Boediker is the manager and J. Mounthe is the captain and the line up on the diamond will be as follows: O. Louterberg, catcher; C. Vergone, pitcher; J. Mounthe, first base; G. Vorel, second base; Veberson, short stop; A. Lohse, third base; F. Buhr, left field; A. Wellmeyer, center field; C. Smith, right field. The team had a game Saturday afternoon with a team composed of employees of the shipping department and they showed up well. They will probably play the Electro-technics next Saturday.

A letter from Noble Sappenfield to a friend in this city brought news of a coming matrimonial affair in which he will be one of the most interested parties. Mr. Sappenfield will marry a charming young lady of Mitchell, Ind., May 8, and take her to Silkeston, Mo., where he is associated with his brother in the lumber business. Mr. Sappenfield was assistant cashier at the Wabash freight office up to last February, when he resigned to go to Silkeston.

The Electro-technic club will depart from the usual character of the addresses before it next Tuesday when it will listen to a lecture on "Banking" by C. H. Worden, vice president of the First National bank. Usually the subjects are of a technical character, but the Electro-technic club believes in the dissemination of knowledge of all kinds and hereafter will pay more attention to matters outside of electrical and mechanical subjects.

The Textiles, the Kaiting Mills ball team, is now fully organized and ready for the ball campaign. Harry Boediker is the manager and J. Mounthe is the captain and the line up on the diamond will be as follows: O. Louterberg, catcher; C. Vergone, pitcher; J. Mounthe, first base; G. Vorel, second base; Veberson, short stop; A. Lohse, third base; F. Buhr, left field; A. Wellmeyer, center field; C. Smith, right field. The team had a game Saturday afternoon with a team composed of employees of the shipping department and they showed up well. They will probably play the Electro-technics next Saturday.

LETTERS.

I DON'T know where it started, but I think it's time for me to rise up and kill a rumor. That is, gaining currency, a rumor that is spreading—Everywhere you'll hear it told—The babe's not interesting. Until it's five months old.

Some bachelor, I'll warrant, was the author of that tale. Some crusty, gray old rummer. Who should serve a term in jail for a slander so malicious. Or be judged a common scold. What! A babe uninteresting. Until it's five months old?

Why, its first "a-lah" is thrilling. To the daddy's waiting ear. And its feeble cry is music. That is mighty sweet and clear. There is sunshine fairly dancing in those little eyes of blue. And a charm that is entrancing. Seems to grip right hold of you.

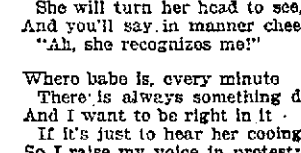

Then you note a smile and wonder if she's waiting for a frolic. But the nurse corrects your blunder. And explains that is the colic. Then you feed her catnip, maybe, while a lulling song you croon. Then you marvel that your baby drinks so nicely from a spoon.

As the days go by you're noting something different, something new. Something quaint, to set you doting. That you thought she couldn't do. Perhaps when you are hearing. She will turn her head to see. And you'll say in manner cheering, "Ah, she recognizes me!"

Where babe is, every minute there is always something doing. And I want to be right in it. If it's just to hear her cooing. So I raise my voice in protest; I deny what oft we're told—That a babe's uninteresting. Until it's five months old.

The Reason.

"I wonder why sailors are always dry?" "Bein' called 'salt' so much makes them thirsty. I s'pose."—St. Louis Republic.

His Business Ability. In the Adirondacks lives a man too lazy to work, but evidently of great business ability. One winter when he was sitting around smoking his family came so near starvation that some of his neighbors, who could ill afford to help him, took up a collection and bought for the suffering family a barrel of flour, a barrel of pork and a load of wood. They were not considerate enough to cut the wood, but the business man knew how to manage. He hired some of the neighbors who had not contributed to his donation to cut the wood and paid them with half the pork and half the flour.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Not Standing Together. "You should hesitate about disparagement of a man in public life." "I never do any disparaging. If I disapprove of anybody I wait for another man in public life to disparage him and then endorse the sentiment."—Washington Star.

The Real Thing. Guest (in cheap restaurant)—See here, waiter, you don't mean to tell me this stuff is mock turtle soup, do you? Waiter—Dat's wot it am, sah. De boss done buys de best mock turtles dar am in de market, sah, an' dat's er fact.—St. Louis Republic.

GOV. MARSHALL HAS GRILL FOR SOME DEMOCRATS

Selfish Motives Control Them on Tariff—The Safe Course.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—The Star today prints the following special from Louis Ludlow, its Washington correspondent:

Governor Marshall, of Indiana, after watching the tariff revision mill grinding at short range, started homeward this afternoon, with a decided conviction that selfishness is a big factor in the continuous performance that is in progress on Capitol Hill these days.

"It's all an unseemly scramble to get under the umbrella," he said. "There is a grand rush to get under the shelter of protective duties. And furthermore," said the governor, "I might as well call a spade a spade and tell you that there are democrats—so-called democrats—who want to get under the umbrella just as badly as any of the republicans, who are scrambling for shelter. An ostensible democrat whose business will be increased $10,000 a year by protection wants to get under the umbrella, while, on the other hand, we observe the spectacle of an ostensible republican, whose interest is in free raw materials, taking a stand against protection. I merely cite these illustrations to show to what a deplorable extent business and politics are intermingling in this country.

Tariff for Revenue Coming Issue. "In my opinion we shall never have a proper settlement of this tariff question until business is taken out of politics and politics is taken out of business—in other words, until we have a tariff scientifically and accurately constructed on a basis of tariff for revenue only.

"The time is coming when there will be a new democratic alignment on this question. It is the coming issue on this question. I would put my stake on that prophecy. Unless I am greatly mistaken the principal plank of the next democratic national convention will be at tariff-for-revenue plank."

When asked regarding the proposed tax on futures, which the democratic senators have decided to advocate, Governor Marshall said:

"I have more respect for the man who bets on horse races than I have for the man who gambles in the wheat market or other futures."

Should Tax Contracts on Futures.

"There is some sport about the one and not a redeeming feature about the other. If I had my way I should do away with all gambling, but I know that it is not in human nature to prevent speculation. I like racing, and after all there is no sport in racing unless there is betting, but that does not mean that I approve of gambling. I may have a peculiar idea of affairs, but I have always believed that if the state would make fewer attempts to make laws regulating the morals of the people in general, and the people would give more attention to individuals, the world would be better off.

Jesus Christ was the first man to denounce this when He said at the time despotism was at its height in Rome, 'Render unto Caesar the things which belong to Caesar, and unto God that which belongs to God.' He knew it was impossible to make Christians by means of laws. If congress would regulate the manipulation of the markets, which causes high prices, such as is the case in Chicago today, let it pass a law placing a tax on all contracts in futures. If men want to gamble in wheat and other commodities, let them pay for the privilege of doing it. A tax on 'future' contracts would yield a big fund to help run the government."

Governor and Mrs. Marshall left Washington at 3:40 o'clock Sunday. They will stop at Columbus, O., where the governor will confer with the state officials in regard to the uniform accounting law in vogue in the Buckeye state.

1896
A Profit-Sharing Celebration

1909
A Whole Week Beginning Today

Thirteen years ago this week the firm of Wolf & Dessauer made its initial bow to the mercantile world. From the time this store had its humble beginning in 1896 certain business principles were adopted and steadfastly adhered to. Briefly stated, these involved the satisfaction of the customer as a prime consideration, together with our ambition to give the GREATEST POSSIBLE VALUES. How well we have succeeded YOU know—and the thousands of others who depend upon this store as their source of supply.

For the past years' successes and triumphs we are sincerely grateful.

Our thirteenth anniversary will be fittingly celebrated this week in a manner truly characteristic of this store, by giving special price concessions in recognition of the splendid support of our friends and patrons in Fort Wayne and the nearby towns.

Actress Weds Her Manager

MISS CECIL SPOONER

New Orleans, La., April 19.—When Mr. Charles E. Blaney, a theatrical manager, and Mrs. Blaney, his wife, who was Miss Cecil Spooner, a popular actress, were told that their marriage was no longer a secret, both confessed and received the belated congratulations of the other members of the Spooner stock company, of which Mrs. Blaney is the star.

Miss Spooner had been under Mr. Blaney's management for three years, and while the stock company was playing in Nashville, Tenn., last January the manager and his star made a quiet but hurried trip to Bowling Green, Ky., one morning and were married and back in Nashville before the other members of the company were awake.

MADAME NORDICA WAS HERE.

Famous Vocalist Spent Night at Anthony and Admired Its Beauty.

On her way from Detroit to Richmond, where she will give a concert this evening, Madame Nordica, of world fame as a vocalist, spent the night at the Anthony hotel this city, and while here took occasion to express her keen disappointment in not having an engagement in this city. She was struck with the beauty of the hotel in which she stopped, characterizing it as one of the finest in the middle west. She was accompanied by M. Andre Bonolo, accompanist, and William F. Chancery, her personal manager. The entire party took a morning train to Richmond.

A Healing Salve for Burns, Chapped Hands and Sore Nipples.

As a healing salve for burns, sores, sore nipples and chapped hands, Chamberlain's Salve is most excellent. It allays the pain of a burn almost instantly, and unless the injury is very severe, heals the parts without leaving a scar. Price, 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

You Furnish the Girl---We'll Furnish the House

Furnish it from cellar to garret, and let you pay us a little at a time. It is better to deposit a dollar with us on account and ultimately own the furniture outright than to put a dollar at a time in the savings bank where it draws only 4 per cent. With us your money doubles because when you surround yourself with the comforts of home, your friends, your neighbors and your employer will respect you accordingly and your circumstances will improve. Do not ask the girl to wait until you have saved up the necessary amount. Use our money to furnish your home, and enjoy it while you are paying for it.

My darling said he "it can not yet be. Though it does break my heart to postpone it. A year or two more perhaps I own it. I can furnish the house though I own it."

Why George! she replied that sign should decide. If you're anxious to wed why delay dear? They'll furnish our home from cellar to dome. And they'll give us your own time to pay, dear.

133,415—TH—TH—THANKS

The year we were eleven we fell in love with the nicest little girl you ever saw.

She had a beautiful influence over our life, and she had a big bow of red ribbon right on top of her head. She always made us want to do some big and grand and noble things. She had the kindest kind of a heart. There was only one thing she did we couldn't quite understand. Every time we tried to tell her how much we thought of her she made us stutter and we could feel our ears get red, if we stayed around long enough our hands got too big, there were too many of them, and we found, to our annoyance, every time we moved we were stepping on our own feet.

You can see from this how shy we have always been, and you can see when we found it such desperately hard work to tell one little girl we liked her—how much worse it's going to be to try to tell all of you grown-up ladies how much we think of you. We can feel our ears getting red again at the very thought.

We haven't got words to tell you what the reception you gave the new big edition of THE DELINEATOR means to us. We don't want to bore you with figures. No matter how good we feel over the rush of new subscribers, thirty-three thousand four hundred and fifteen more in one fortnight than for the same two weeks last year; no matter if our newsstand sales jumped one hundred thousand on the April number, we can't expect you to be as excited about it as we are. At the same time, we want you to know, because it is all due to you. We are trying our best to make the most beautiful and useful woman's periodical possible, and we are having a good deal of success, but without your approval the effort will be wasted. That's why we feel so good over the apparently unanimous approval: that's why we want to thank you, and bless you—even if we s-t-u-t-t-e-r while we say it.

To give you an idea of just how THE DELINEATOR in its handsome new dress was received, we reprint a letter from a lady who insists that she is old. When you have read it we think you will join with us in believing that she must be mistaken because

Her Heart Is So Young

"DEAR DELINEATOR, how beautiful you look in your new dress. You have been my daily companion for more than half my life. For thirty-three years you have comforted and amused and benefited me. You have been a good companion in bright days and dark days, sad days and glad days, in autumn chill and winter cold. We have passed many a dreary and sad time together, we have had many a jolly time too. And now you come to me more beautiful than ever, but with a joy of being able to serve me better than ever. As a young maiden I welcomed you, and as a wife and mother I welcomed you, and now with my grandchildren around my knee I am prouder of you than ever. Dear friend, I dare not look too far into the future, but hope that you will be my companion in the days to come as you have been in the past; and may the inevitable change that comes to us all improve me as it has you."

Lovingly your friend,

Here's a fragment of another letter, which contains a quaint complaint. She laid her magazine down for a moment, and some one found it so attractive as to be irresistible. She blames us. Her letter is addressed to "Whomsoever is responsible for the change in the size of THE DELINEATOR" and may with perfect propriety be called

A Lady-like Kick

"I have been a constant reader of your DELINEATOR for the last six years and was perfectly satisfied with the size of the magazine. It was easy to hold and adapted itself to a neat pile on the table. . . . The new number for April I bought as usual, but as it was too large to go in my shopping-bag I had it rolled and tied and had to carry it in my hand, consequently laid it down in one of the shops and some one took it and I could not find it afterward, so I had to buy another, which may be very good for the trade, but did not please me one little bit. . . . Now I have had the satisfaction of expressing my candid opinion to you, and we will see what happens next."

Sincerely,

When the worst complaint of THE DELINEATOR in its new size is that it's too big to be put in a shopping-bag, and too attractive to be left lying around without a guardian, we feel like including our critic with our friends and saying

Thank You! Thank You! Thank You!

Friends and foes may take our thanks as being addressed to them. Strangers are cordially invited to try THE DELINEATOR for themselves. The May number is now on sale.

ICE BOX COMPANY THRIVING AT 1 YEAR OLD

Refrigerator Concern's Annual Meeting—Wayne Shoe Company Tonight.

On its first birthday, the Fort Wayne Refrigerator company is one of the healthiest infants ever born in this city. At the annual meeting of the stockholders Saturday in the new plant in the Commercial addition near the rolling mills, all the old directors and officers were re-elected and the reports of the company's business evidenced most promising conditions.

The company is now encoined in the building formerly occupied by the Wallace-Lindsmith Hoist company, giving it three times the working space enjoyed in the old quarters. The machinery in the erecting and sheet metal departments is being run by electricity supplied from the rolling mills and the other departments will be in operation within ten days.

The present directors are William M. Griffin, S. M. Foster, H. C. Rockhill, W. H. Kelley, F. H. Hilgeman, A. H. Schaaf and O. N. Gulldin. The board organized by making Mr. Griffin president, Mr. Rockhill, vice president; Mr. Schaaf, secretary, and Fred H. McCulloch, treasurer.

Mr. Schaaf and Mr. Hilgeman were the inventors of the refrigerator, made entirely of steel and glass.

RHEUMATISM.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worse than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

Consultation, Examination and Treatment at 136 West Wayne Street

The best equipped institute in Fort Wayne. Nothing to pay for except remedies used. Hours—9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10-12.

CURED WITHOUT OPERATION.
I was ailing for 29 years, tried many doctors, ready-made remedies, mail treatment—everything without avail. Local physicians agreed there was no cure for me except the knife. I WAS ON MY WAY TO THE HOSPITAL when I read of the United Specialists and was profoundly impressed with the superior skill of their expert who revealed my history so far back that I stood enchanted; described every ache, pain and symptom better than I could. At a glance he read my complaint like an open book. There was a revelation in his treatment and remedies were no less a surprise; not only different from any I ever had, but so effective as to make me think that the easiest task of all was the curing of chronic disease by these adepts. I am very grateful for what the United Specialists did for me.
MRS. JOSEPH TEST,
231 West Main St., Fort Wayne.

SENSATIONAL CURE.

Every Tom, Dick and Harry gives medical advice, but some diseases awe even physicians and nurses into silence! Such was the malady of Mr. Louis Brown, a well-known veteran near Auburn, Ind. No one who saw him would believe he could be much benefited. His affection kept both hands and other parts in the shape of solid crusts, disabling him from the lightest work. He grasped the United Specialists as the drowning clutch a straw. His suffering was indescribable and he was fast losing faith in Medical Science, when he consulted the United Specialists, who remove the cause of chronic ailments instead of treating the symptoms, and thus restored Mr. Brown to the enjoyment of perfect health, than which there is nothing greater on this earth.

HOLES EATEN TO BONE.

KNEE TO TOES ONE SOLID SORE.—Over a year ago my knee and leg were badly bruised; a small pimple formed; in spite of what the doctors could do and all the home remedies I used it spread all over my leg and foot; last winter it got so bad I couldn't work; great holes were eaten in the flesh, down to the very bone; two of the doctors I consulted said my leg would have to be taken off, as it never would get better. Knowing what good work had been done for many sick people by the United Specialists, I was greatly pleased to learn on consulting them, that they made just such troubles as mine a specialty. I began the treatment last January and in a few days had improved so much, that I got a position as gate tender at the Fairfield Avenue Railroad crossing on the Wabash. I have never lost a day's work since on account of my leg, and am getting better right along. JOIN LECOQUE, 441 Bass St.

WE GUARANTEE CURES TO BE LASTING.

Mrs. Edward Snyder, 235 Main St., City, who had suffered for months from severe nervous trouble, says: "I certainly have improved very much under your treatment."

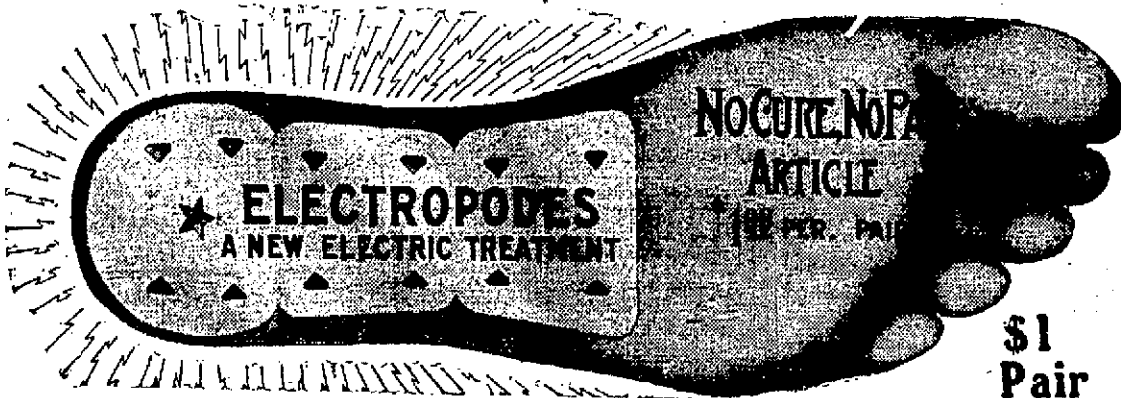

Through the latest scientific researches, both by improved instruments and methods the doctor is enabled to discover the true nature of the disease and locate the organ or parts afflicted. Many diseases and complications which have heretofore proven most obstinate to the medical profession yield like magic under his skill and systematic treatment.

CATARH IS THE FORERUNNER OF CONSUMPTION.

Mr. August Kellenberg, of New Haven, Ind., a railroad man, says: "I was afflicted with stomach and bowel catarrh for some time, and during last summer the trouble became so bad that I had to lay off from work; I was weak and dizzy with constant pains in my head and body; tried different means of cure during this time, but obtained no benefit until I placed my case with the United Specialists, 136 West Wayne St., last September. The medicine and electric treatment I obtained at this famous establishment rapidly made me much better and I soon was able to take up my work. At this time I am feeling fine and am a well man again."

STOP TAKING DRUGS And Try the New Electric Treatment

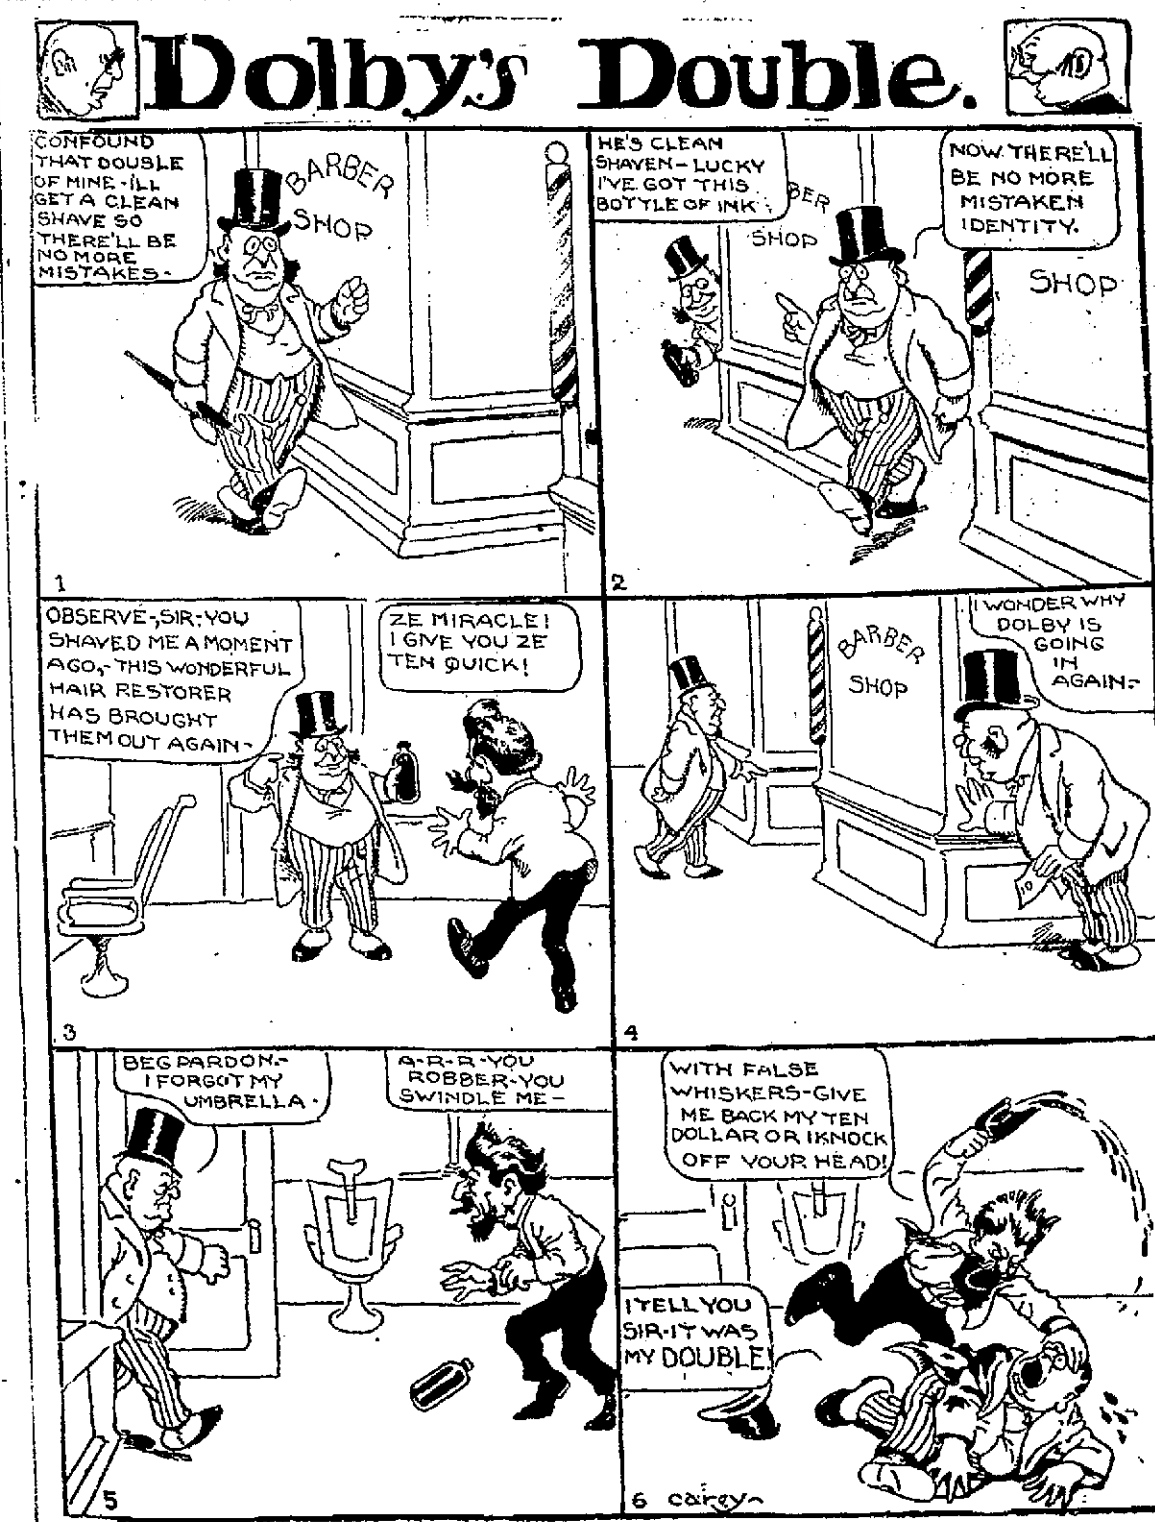

A sure and positive cure for rheumatism in any form. They build up the entire nervous system, thus curing nervous headaches and all nervous ailments. They positively restore a good circulation of the blood and make cold feet warm. Ask your druggist to see Electropodes and if he cannot supply you, send direct to the Electrode Company, Lima, Ohio, and try a pair. The money is positively refunded if they are not satisfactory or fail to cure. Mention ladies or gents.

ELECTROPODES

Are chemically treated metal soles, zinc and copper, the same as a galvanic battery. The zinc is worn in one shoe, the copper in the other. The nerves themselves are the connecting wires between the positive and negative, and every nerve of the body is fed a mild and soothing current of electricity the entire day which positively cures.

A CONTRACT

Is signed by all druggists, agreeing to refund the money if Electropodes fail to cure rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sleeplessness, Bad circulation, Cold Feet, Cramps, Nervous Headaches and other nervous ailments. They build up the inside nerves, thus curing Kidney, Liver and Stomach troubles. Try a pair for thirty days and be convinced of the wonderful merit there is in a proper Electric Treatment.

For Every Boy and Girl

A Narrow Escape

By Eric Waters

HAVE found an Italian teacher, Frances," said Mr. Moore to his wife one evening on his return from the office.

"An Italian master! Don't you think the children are too young to study languages?" she asked.

"No, dear; they can never begin too soon to catch the accent."

"Somebody has been working on your sympathy, I know," cried the wife, who knew too well that people were always bringing pitiful tales to her kind-hearted husband. She was never surprised at seeing the most absurd articles arrive at the house, such as washing-machines that were of no earthly use, or paintings too ugly to hang—"because," as Mr. Moore explained, "we must not make paupers of the unfortunate by giving them money for nothing."

An Italian teacher was something new. Skilful questioning disclosed the fact that the charitable man had discovered an Italian gentleman—poor, proud and nearly desperate in his vain search for employment to support his wife and baby. Mr. Moore had made him believe that he was anxious to find a teacher, and pride was satisfied.

Now, though the wife loved to tease, and to laugh at her husband when he was humbugged, there was no one so ready to help the really needy; so it happened that a large class was formed to study Italian, and difficulties which it overcomes in its formation are of no ordinary kind. The sea-urchin is fond of burrowing in the sand, leaving a funnel-shaped depression, which guides the eye to its hiding-place.

The lizards were many, and they loved to watch them basking in the sun or gliding rapidly along the stone walls. They loved, too, to visit the potteries and see the most lovely jars and vases made from the clay. The potter showed them his pet blue and green frogs, which he kept in water in glass jars. They were very tame, and knew their owner. The blue one was a rare specimen and of a turquoise hue.

Norman and Alice improved their Italian in talking with the Mentonese, many of whom are Italians, Mentone being on the border-line between France and Italy; and they made friends with a quaintly garbed old shepherd, whose sheep knew their names and followed him up the mountains to feed on the scanty herbage, or through the gray-green olive-groves.

The glorious blue sea was an unending delight. They went out in the queer lateen-sailed fishing-boats, or sat on the shore with their mother watching the waves ebbing and flowing continually; for the Mediterranean is a tideless sea, and unlike the seaside they knew at home, where the tides make a great difference on the beach twice a day.

But best of all were the donkey-rides, for the little creatures were so stubborn and wise that they were very amusing. One morning, when a large party was going from the hotel, the donkey-woman who brought the little animals and went along beside them to urge them on tried to mount a fat lady, who stood on a bench for the purpose. Now, this little donkey had carried the old lady before; moreover, he was a donkey of a good memory, and his poor back still felt sore from her great weight. He allowed the woman to lead him to the bench, but each time the large rider tried to seat herself, Mr. Donkey gave a jerk and a bound to the other side of the road. The large lady was very good-natured and laughed heartily.

"Poor donkey!" she said. "He remembers," and laughed harder than ever. That gave every one else a chance to laugh, too, without seeming rude, and when the stout donkey-woman picked up a thin little old gentleman and popped him on the saddle, a perfect roar of laughter rent the air.

The Carnival was a great event, and when King Carnival rode past, seated on a huge fish, and followed by many grotesque and funny figures, the children threw confetti with the crowd, and had no end of fun.

The Battle of Flowers was another great attraction; each carriage being most beautifully decorated with its chosen flowers. Masses of pink roses covered one carriage, and the ladies who occupied it wore colors to match. Another carriage was decked with yellow blossoms, and still another with violets. Bouquets were flung from the roadside and from carriage to carriage, and the battle was fast and furious.

Toward spring our little party left Mentone, going into Italy, where they settled in a little village by the sea, where the Maritime Alps rose high above them. They took long walks, as they had done in southern France, exploring the rocks, gathering wild flowers or wandering through lemon and orange orchards on the terraced sides of the mountains. Sometimes the few English-speaking strangers went with them on their rambles.

"Mother," Norman said one day, "we found a lovely new walk this afternoon. Alice and I followed Monsieur Jacques and his friends up a winding path from the rocks, through the terraces, and came out on the high-road, and home that way. You come to-morrow, and we will show you the way."

They had become so fond of the gentle Italians of Mentone that they felt quite fearless in taking lonely walks, or even in picking a fresh, juicy lemon or orange, but in this little place where they were now staying they were comparative strangers.

Early one afternoon the mother and children set forth to explore the new path, walking first along the shore and clambering over rocks, and at a sharp turning finding the little foot-path leading up the steep hillside. It wound along near the sea, up through lemon orchards and skirting an olive grove. Up and up they climbed. It seemed very still and lonely, and they met no one until they were more than half-way up the hill. They sat down and rested, looking out on the exquisite blue sky and sea and white-winged boats. Moving on again, the path became steeper and narrower, and was cut so close to the cliff that they walked "single file" for fear of falling over the precipice.

Just at this point they heard footsteps above them, and a man with a soft hat pulled over his face, and a kerchief tied under his chin, as if for toothache, came swiftly down. Instinctively, each moved to the inner side of the path and let him take the dangerous edge—nodding a polite "good-day," as they always did to the peasants. They said nothing to each other, but continued the ascent. At a bend of the path they each glanced carelessly back, and saw, to their alarm, the man standing still and furtively watching them. It gave them an uneasy feeling. Coming to a point where the path divided, Mrs. Moore said:

"Are you sure you know which one leads to the road, Norman?"

"Yes, Mother; come on quickly." The trees and shrubs were thick here, and a ruined cottage was on the terrace at one side.

"I don't remember that house," whispered Alice.

Again they heard steps, but dared not look back. The man came quickly up, passed Mrs. Moore, passed

THE CHILDREN THREW CONFETTI WITH THE CROWD.

Alice, and, reaching Norman, who was in advance, grabbed him roughly by both arms and turned him round, planting himself firmly in the narrow path, as though to say, "So far and no farther."

Then the brigand—for such he was—drew a pistol and pointed it at the boy. Terror filled their hearts, but they showed no sign of fear. Mrs. Moore asked him politely to show them the way, but he shook his head. She then opened her purse, but he again shook his head and pointed at the path leading to the water, evidently trying to drive them down.

Suddenly little Alice gave a bound away, and looking down another path (the one they should have followed) began to call out and chatter fluently in Italian.

"Ah! they come, they come!" she cried. "My father; my uncle; Maria; all! Come, Papa! Come! Hurrah! Hurrah!"

Then to the amazement of Mrs. Moore, who believed the child saw someone, Norman, too, began to shout at the top of his voice, and shaking his fist at the brigand, screamed:

"Fly, villain, fly or you die! Die like a dog! The master comes to take your life."

The brigand let the arm that held the pistol drop to his side, gave a look of surprise and fear, and rushed to the narrow path leading to the sea—dashed headlong down—jumped into a boat and rowed rapidly away. But before he reached the boat, Norman cried, "Quick, Mother, quick! Here is the right path," and, climbing quickly, they gained the high road, which the steep hill had hidden from their sight.

"I thought we were certainly going to be shot," said Norman, "but I meant to fight."

"I thought we were three to one," said his mother, "but that others might come out of the cottage and carry us off and hold us for ransom."

"Oh! I thought I should die of fright," whispered poor little Alice, "till I remembered our dialogue we used to frighten the other children with at home, and I was so glad when Norman came in with his part—'Fly villain!' and all the rest. I really believe I made the brigand believe I saw somebody."

"You certainly did, child," said her mother. "You are a clever pair of actors, and you did it so well that I quite believed when you beckoned and called that you really saw some people coming to our aid."

The village had lost all charm for our friends now, and they had not another happy moment. They imagined they saw the brigand in every inoffensive peasant who pulled his hat over his eyes; for their nerves had been sadly shaken, and Mrs. Moore realized with gratitude that but for the happy chance that sent the Italian teacher to her home, she and her children might not "have lived to tell the tale." They visited many beautiful spots, but lonely walks had no attractions for them. To-day they might revisit the dangerous place in safety, as the desperate men are gone forever: but never, as long as they live, will they forget the perilous path.

What They Have

By Lizzie De Armond

I.
The ants have each a brush and comb,
A pocket has the bee;
A spear, the slender-waisted wasp,
That you will feel, maybe.

II.
The spider has her spinning-wheels,
The moth a pair of shears;
The glow-worm bears a tiny lamp,
That always bright appears.

III.
A house the snail has, strong and neat,
'Tis carried on its back;
The beetles beat a big bass drum—
Of noise there is no lack.

IV.
Whate'er they have, these creatures small
Both wisely use and well;
I wonder if all boys and girls
This of themselves can tell.

Auntie's Camera

By HELEN LEAH REED

My Auntie has a camera, and when I'm out at play
And see her coming with it, I try to hide away.
For oh, it is so bothersome to hear her, with a laugh,
Call, "Stand just where you are, dear; I'll take a photograph."

Sometimes an angry lion, I have just begun to roar,
And all the children run from me to sneak behind the door,
When Auntie to our forest comes—why does she stop our fun?

I'd just as soon that camera should be a loaded gun.

Perhaps a fire engine, I am rushing to a fire,
While people loudly call for help as flames rise higher and higher.

I hurry toward the hydrant there, for oh! the flames are hot!
When Auntie with her camera cries, "What a fine snapshot!"

But then it doesn't seem to snap, so I must be polite,
And when she says, "Oh, please, stand still, the sun is not just right."

I have to pull up where I am and see that house burn down,
For Auntie doesn't understand, even when I twist and frown.

She only says, "Don't squirm, my pet! Oh, what a cunning pose!
Your scowl is better than a smile,"—so that's the way it goes—

A policeman or an admiral, no matter what I am,
I have to face that camera as quiet as a lamb.

My Grandmother

By Helen Leah Reed

I want to see a grandmother like those there used to be,
In a cosy little farm-house, where I could go to tea;
A grandmother with spectacles and a funny, frilly cap,
Who would make me sugar cookies, and take me on her lap,

And tell me lots of stories of the days when she was small,
When everything was perfect—not like to-day at all.

My grandmother is "grandma," and she lives in a hotel,
And when they ask, "What is his age?" she smiles and will not tell.

Says she doesn't care to realize that she is growing old;
Then whispers—"But you're far too big a boy for me to hold."

Her dresses shine and rustle, and her hair is wavy brown,
And she has an automobile, that she steers, herself,
downtown.

My grandmother is pretty. "Do I love her?" Rather
—yes;

Our Nora calls her stylish, and on the whole I guess She's better than the other kind, for once when I was ill

She helped my mother nurse me, and read to me until I fell asleep; and stayed with me, and wasn't tired, and then

She played nine holes of golf with me when I got out again.

Yet, because I've never seen one, just once I want to see
A real old-fashioned grandmother, like those there used to be.

A Scramble for Wealth

Ted's Work

By A. B. C.

"I'll be glad when I get that whole pile of wood in.
Then I'll be through with it, won't I, Mama?"

"No, Ted. You know I shall want you to carry out the ashes after the wood is burned up," answered mama.

"Then I'll be through with it, Mama."

"No, I think not," answered mama, while Ted's eyes grew big with wonder.

"You will scatter the ashes on the cornfield, and papa will plow them in in the spring. Then you will help him plant the corn, you know. The corn will grow, eating the ashes and ground about it, and by and by you will eat the sweet corn."

"Oh, we'll sort of eat the wood ourselves, and that will be the end of the old wood-pile."

"Not quite," said mama. "There will be cobs left, and stalks of the corn. We may feed them to the pig or to the cow, and that will give us meat or milk."

"Well, I never knew before there was so much in a wood-pile," said Ted.

A MAN CAME SWIFTLY DOWN THE PATH

Norman and Alice Moore became the youngest and most apt pupils. The young Italian and his wife were truly charming people. They and the baby became valued friends; and the little people learned more in helping to teach the baby to talk than in the classroom.

Now, this introduction is only to tell you how the children learned something of the language. The good use they made of it in after years, in a moment of great danger, you will learn by and by.

One winter, two years later, Norman and Alice went with their mother to Mentone, in the south of France. Everything was delightful there—to bathe in the sea in December; to pick flowers and fresh figs; to ride on donkeys; to watch the fishermen, and women, too, in many motley colors, haul in the nets, perhaps to find but a handful of sardines; to watch the boys dive for sea-urchins (or sea eggs), and see the people eat them raw.

Norman was very fond of natural history, and was always learning. He examined the sea-urchins carefully with his microscope, finding that they have spine-like quills like the porcupine, the upper part protected by a curved shell. This shell, Norman learned from his natural history, is "one of the most marvelous structures in the animal kingdom, and the mechanical

Meyer Bros. Co. Guarantee to Cure
Dyspepsia—If They Fail, the Medicine Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people of Fort Wayne that indigestion and dyspepsia is curable and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will effect the cure, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give complete satisfaction to anyone giving it a trial.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is largely due to the new and successful method of manufacture, whereby the well known properties of Bismuth, Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with carminatives and their agents.

Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin are recognized by the entire medical profession as specifics for acute indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is manufactured by a new process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, and exerts a tonic influence upon all the glands which supply all the other elements necessary to proper assimilation and digestion.

The carminatives add properties which promptly relieve the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food.

The perfect combination of these ingredients make a remedy absolutely incomparable and invaluable for the complete cure of indigestion and dyspepsia.

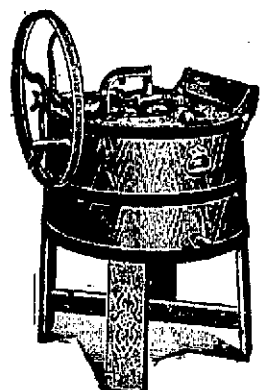

We are so positively certain of this that we sell Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee that they will either cure you or cost you nothing. Three sizes, 25c, 45c and 85c. Meyer Bros. Co. Three Drug Stores.

Contemporaries Who Were Unkind
Enough to Observe That They Would Like to Attend a Lynching Bee—The Choking Cure.

[Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.]
IT'S early in the winter yet, and yet the whiskey in all the saloons of Greadam Gulch has frozen solid and been thawed out three different times. In a month more we'll be drinking ice water and paying for the other stuff.

The mayor of the town of Lone Jack pulled his gun and fired at a man the other day and killed a dog. The man who invests in real estate in that town is going to get left.

We learn that forty critters loafing around this burg sent a petition to Washington the other day to have us bounced as postmaster under the new administration. It can't be done short of an earthquake, and they might as well quit trying. We might let go of the mailpo, but never of an office.

The Grass Valley Tribune says that the Kicker gives eastern people a false impression of Arizona and thereby hinders new citizens from coming in. We plead guilty. Two months ago the editor of the Tribune legged it for the woods when a man with a gun came in to demand an apology, and we so stated. That isn't Arizona at all.

One of those incidents inseparable from life in a new and patriotic community occurred at the Royal hotel on Tuesday last. A drummer from Chicago found fault with the holes in the tablecloth and carried it to such excess that mine host felt compelled to shoot him through the shoulder. After the bullet had been extracted the drummer decided to apologize. Men who go about picking up trifles must expect more or less trouble.

It is quite likely that from three to five of the mail carriers sent out from this postoffice will be eaten by wolves or bears during the winter, and any one wishing to be on hand as a substitute should hand in his name at an early date. Uncle Sam's mail can't stop because a few employees get chewed up.

Several of our esteemed contemporaries have been unkind enough during the last week to observe that they should like to attend a lynching bee with us as the central figure. They don't like our ways, and we are sorry for it, but it's the way we were brought up, and we can't help it. We have got a spirit of exultation about us that makes us keep on doing things.

A Certain Individual.

An individual calling himself Texas Jack, who has been hanging around the Gulch for the last two months and bragging of the number of men he has planted, took a walk last night and is now somewhere between here and Florence. The vigilance committee was the cause of it. He said he wouldn't go at first, but after the moose had been tightened on him two or three times he decided to travel. Many things have been tried in the west to move a bad man on, but nothing has been found so effective as a little choking. The change of sentiment produced is almost instantaneous, and rope is wonderfully cheap.

Mr. Henry Millington, a gentleman fifty years old, arrived here from St. Louis last Sunday in quest of information concerning his son William, who was last heard of in this vicinity. With our usual cheerfulness we dropped all work and began an investigation and at the end of an hour was able to assure the anxious father that William lies buried about four miles out on the Dog Creek road. It was about the 1st of October that some cowboys overtook him on a stolen broncho after a pursuit of fifteen miles. The father was more or less affected; but, on the whole, he was glad that William had found rest and peace at last.

At the Heils Opera House Thursday night the Boston Ideal Theatrical company put on the play of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and gave a fine performance. Of course all the lights in the house were out when the proper moment arrived, and of course the boys made Uncle Tom and Legree do a hot act by shooting at their feet; but, on the whole, things passed off beautifully.

Mr. Jack Bristow, who thinks his mission on earth is to go around righting wrongs, rode over a hundred miles to drop in on us last Monday. According to him, we are wrong, and he had Procession Passing Through Port Au Prince.

PROCESSION PASSING THROUGH STREETS OF PORT AU PRINCE

CEREMONY AT THE CEMETERY

Port Au Prince, April 17.—Funeral ceremonies have been held recently by the Haytiens in honor of the victims of the political assassinations which were committed a little more than a year ago. It was the late President Alexis and his horde of bandits who bore the insignia of ministers and generals, who were responsible for this terrible destruction of human life. The story of the tragedy is a gruesome one. It was on the night of March 15, 1906, that these death dealing cowards who brought the disgrace to the country sauntered forth, at an hour when it is customary for the criminals in all capitals to operate. Colonel, a poet, whose works already bore the promise of greater renown, besides merchants, workmen and young men, scarcely out of their boyhood, seven or eight victims in all, were dragged from their beds and, without trial or charges beyond mere hearsay, for the gratification of personal vengeance, were hurled amid blows and insults to the wall of the cemetery

(while their wives, daughters or sisters were clinging in all the desperation of useless appeal to their captors), where they were hastily lined up and barbarously blown to pieces almost with volleys delivered at such short range that the skulls of the unfortunates were afterward found to be shattered, after which the remains were gathered up and cast into trenches dug outside the confines of the cemetery, it being the law in Hayti that persons executed for political crimes may not be interred with the rest of mortals.

a gun out to right us before we knew that he was in the sanctum. His shooting was so mighty poor that we were ashamed to have to split his right ear with a bullet and scare him out of the office and out of town. He doubtless means well, but he should explain his little jokes in advance.

We feel sorry in a way at being compelled to announce the suspension of the Pine Hill Banner, a weekly paper set afloat about six months ago. We told Brother Barker when he started it that he would have to do some shooting to secure a circulation, but he believed in brotherly love and has come out as we predicted. You can't come out of a sawmill in Wisconsin or a dairy in Ohio and run a newspaper in Arizona on those lines, and you might as well cease trying. Men don't hanker to shoot an editor every day in the week, but when the fit does come on they want to feel that he will shoot back and make things interesting.

Put on No Lugs.
We have always contended that if Colonel Harris and ex-Judge White, both of Grass Valley, ever got into a real hot argument there would be shooting between them. The affair came off three or four days ago. They got to talking about the late political campaign and calling each other liars and renegades, and then each one drew and opened fire. From the noise and smoke created the town figured on having to bury at least ten victims, but when all was over not so much as a coat button had been cut away. All hang and no one hurt. And Arizona is looking for staidhood when such farces are being played.

Two weeks ago, after having given proper notice, we turned outdoors the crowd of loafers that has been infesting the mayor's office for the last year and toasting their slabs at the expense of the town. As a result we are charged with thinking of ourselves as mayor too good to associate with the common run, and there are dark threats as to what may happen next spring. We are a plain man. We put on no lugs. We have drunk with a half breed and hunted with a Digger Indian, and if certain white men can't see that we must dignify our office to a certain extent to prevent its being turned into a beer garden we have nothing to say to them.

As mayor of Greadam Gulch we bounced the city marshal last week, and the place is open to a man of sand who can shoot two handed and who isn't afraid of killing a cowboy or a terror now and then. The job pays $2 a day, and in case of the officer's death while in the line of duty his widow gets a pension.

Mr. Holy Terror Montana, who set out to run this town about two years ago and didn't make a success of it, was hung last week in a small town in New Mexico. Before he left here in obedience to a warning from the vigilance committee we struggled with him like a brother; but, though he talked to us with tears in his eyes, our words had no lasting effect on him. His business was removing humanity to a better clime, and he had pursued it so long that he couldn't change to farming or other peaceful pursuits.
M. QUAD.

From a Forthcoming Novel.
Panic stricken, we saw that our little aircraft in which we had endeavored to escape from the wreck of the airship was rapidly filling with atmosphere.

"Ball her out!" shouted Corkney. And all through the night we dipped out the air with our hats and hung it back into the sky.—New York Life.

S.S.S. CURES
BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out, and usually sores and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S.S.S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. It allowed to run on the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S.S.S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S.S.S. goes into the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S.S.S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., April 15.—The upward tendency of wheat prices on the board of trade met a severe setback at the opening of the market today, the quotations showing a decline of 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢, compared with Saturday's close. May opened at $1.27 1/2 to $1.27 3/4, July at $1.17 1/2 to $1.17 3/4, and September at $1.07 1/2 to $1.07 3/4. Selling was general at the start and was based chiefly on a decline of 1/4 to 1 1/2¢ at Liverpool, where the market was heavily influenced by a much heavier movement from Russia last week than had been expected. Early in the day the September and December options were in fairly good demand, which caused a recovery of all the loss in those deliveries, but the selling pressure on July continued heavy for time. After July had sold up to $1.17 1/2, the price again dropped back to about the opening low point. September, however, advanced to $1.05 1/2 to $1.05 3/4.

Demand for the September delivery was sufficiently active to force the price still higher, and the market was again trending upward at $1.05 1/2. In the meantime May advanced to $1.23 and July to $1.15 1/2. The market then slumped again on liberal sales of July, the prices of that month dropping to $1.15 1/2. May sold off to $1.26 1/2 and September to $1.06 1/2. The market closed weak at $1.16 1/2 to $1.16 3/4, September was down 1 1/2¢ at $1.07. May closed at $1.27.

Corn for May and July deliveries touched new high record marks for the season during the early trading today, the former selling at 70¢ and the latter at 68¢. The volume of trade, however, was rather small, owing to a great scarcity of offerings. Light receipts and improved shipping demand were the bullish factors. May opened unchanged to a shade higher at 69 1/2¢ to 70¢ and soon rose to 70¢, while July sold up to 68 1/2¢, after opening at 68 1/2¢.

Prices continued to advance until May touched 71 1/2¢. The market was bearishly affected by the break in wheat and nearly all the earlier gain was lost on profit taking. The close was rather easy with May still 1/2¢ higher at 70 1/2¢.

There was a big general trade in oats and the market was strong. Country commission houses were liberal purchasers of the September delivery, demand being based mainly on continued delay to seedling operations. Prices at the start were liberal to 1/4¢ higher, May being at 55 1/2¢. Early in the day May sold up to 56 1/2¢.

Trading in provisions was quite active and the market was about steady. Local packers were moderate sellers early in the session. Prices at the opening were 2 1/2¢ to 3¢ higher, compared with Saturday's close.

The Leading Style Store

To be considered the leaders of fashion is a reward of merit fully appreciated by us, and in order to maintain our reputation as style leaders our preparations for this season have been more extensive than ever before. There's one thing that makes buying easy here—there's no looking over a lot of things you don't want to find what you do want. Our entire stock is so uniformly good that you can't make an unwise choice.

SILKS

Our silk section shows only what is newest and best. We sell no silks but good silks and the newness, beauty and prices are inviting. Will you see them?

Foulard Silks lead in popularity. All the new designs are here; we price them at 68c, 75c, 85c and $1.00 a yard.

Fancy Jacquard Messalines, choice colors, 85c and $1.00 a yard.

Corded Messalines, very stylish, $1.00 a yard.

Satin Charmeuse, a soft clinging weave, $1 a yard.

Fancy Figured Messalines, many pretty effects, $1.00 a yard.

"Mirage," the popular rough finished silk fabric, $1.25 a yard.

Messaline Duchesse, 36 inches wide, new bayadere cord effect, $1.85 a yard.

MILLINERY

A fascinating array of the newest creations in Hats—the work of adept milliners, who keep constantly in touch with the fashion center. There are Hats and Hats. Anyone can sell cheap Hats, but our aim is to sell stylish and becoming Hats at a reasonable price. We study the needs of every customer and try to get the best results.

A splendid showing of stylish hats from $1.00 to $10.00 each.

Spring Gowns

If you would be posted on suit newness, keep in touch with our suit room. Every day has its story to tell of good styles and great values. For instance, new Spring Suits in plain and striped serges and Panamas, in navy, brown and black. Coats and skirts trimmed with satin bands and buttons; $18.00 and $20.00 values, $15.00 each.

Fancy Spring Suits in the newest styles, serges, Panamas, prunellas, checks and wide wale effects; $22.50 and $25.00 values, $18.50 each.

A few more Suits to close out—not this season's styles but the cloth is worth more than we ask for the suits—$3.98 and $5.98 each.

A beautiful showing of white embroidered and lace trimmed robes. Everything to make a handsome gown but the putting together, $5.00 to $30.00 each.

Linen Auto Coats, a necessity if you ride; swell styles, $4.50 to $7.50 each.

Waists

Waists with all the little excellencies of cut and fit which go to make one waist better than another. Styles that are perfect, trimming effects that are all that could be desired and prices right. Plainly tailored and fancily trimmed White Linen and Lawn Waists, a big variety to choose from, $1.35 values, $1.00 each.

Lingerie Waists, fine Swisses and Lawns, beautifully trimmed with laces and embroidery, $2.00 values, $1.50 each.

A small lot of fancy Silk and Lace Net Waists to close out, $5.00 and $6.00 values, $3.49 each.

Messaline Silk Waists in the season's best shades—styles that are correct—$6.00 each.

Tafoia Silk Petticoats, black and all wanted colors; made and finished just as you like them; $6.00 and $6.50 values, $4.98 each.

Far-away Japan has sent us some very beautifully hand-embroidered Silk Kimonos and Negligees. You will enjoy seeing them and prices will please.

ZUEBLIN PROMISES TO COME.

Will Conduct Week of Civic Revivals Beginning June 2.

Prof. Charles Zueblin, of the Chicago university, has responded in favorable terms to the invitation to conduct a week of civic revivals beginning Wednesday, June 2nd, in this city. The majestic theater has been leased for that week and Prof. Zueblin will talk every afternoon and evening, his evening talks to be illustrated. The topics are: "Afternoon—The New Civic Spirit," "The Training of the Citizen," "The Making of the City," "The Administration of the City," "The Life of the Citizen," "Evening—Transportation," "Twenty-first Century Schools," "Twenty-first Century Recreation," "Harrisburg, a Typical Small City" and "The Improvements of the Nation's Capital." "Art and Life" will be the Sunday afternoon subject and "The Fellowship of the Common Life" that for the evening.

BEST TREATMENT FOR COLDS.

"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

MEETING OF WAYNE SHOE COMPANY.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wayne Shoe company will be held this evening. This company rounded out its second year of existence on the 10th of this month and the reports of the officers tonight will show steady gains from the very beginning. Improvements have been carried on all the time, increasing the floor space and installing new machinery and the third year begins under most flattering circumstances.

The principal shoe made by the company is the "Wayne-Made" and its reputation is fast becoming fixed in the middle western states. The traveling salesmen of the company have less and less trouble in selling their goods and the company expects to put out a new shoe this summer, an out-going shoe to be called the "Elk" which is said to have many advantages over other outing shoes.

PLUNGED INTO BRIDGE.

Mr. and Mrs. John Perkins Bruised in Auto Mishap Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Perkins, of 1006 East Washington street, were slightly bruised in an auto mishap Sunday afternoon when the machine in which they were riding got out of control and plunged into a bridge three miles south of Maysville. The injured people were hurried to the offices of Dr. Thompson, at Maysville, and there it was found their injuries were not severe. They were later brought to their home here. Mr. Perkins is a Pennsylvania brakeman.

The machine at the time of the accident was going at only a fair rate of speed. It belongs to the Auburn garage here and was brought back to the city in its wrecked condition later in the afternoon.

OBJECT TO STRONG MEDICINE.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of those varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all druggists.
